

State, National Crime Index Shows Yearly Decrease

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The number of serious crimes reported in Youngstown the first three months of 1977 was down 27 per cent from the same period a year ago, the biggest drop of any Ohio city with more than 100,000 population, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

All nine Ohio "big cities" recorded decreases on the FBI Crime Index, as did most cities across the country. Akron was second with a 21.4 per cent drop, and Columbus ran third with a 20 per cent decrease.

Canton was at the national average with a 9 per cent decrease; Akron, Parma and Dayton were below the average while Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Toledo were above, the FBI statistics showed.

"Sometime back we instituted a crime prevention program," Youngstown Police Lt. Frank Gallagher said. This included a multi-jurisdictional unit composed of officers from Youngstown and surrounding law enforcement units which talked to groups about crime prevention.

The program started slowly but then took off, the lieutenant said. "We have been recovering a lot of stolen property lately," he said.

In Akron, "we had the federally funded Crime Impact program then and that had an impact," said Lt. Joe Kiba. "But the bad weather had an effect, too."

The special program "gave us four extra cars to put out in areas of high crime," Kiba said. The program was halted briefly when the money ran out but was reinstated last month when new funding was found.

"Plus redistricting," Kiba added. "The deputy chief in charge of patrol redistricted (the city) and doubled the cars in high crime areas."

The decline in the Crime Index, generally attributed to the bitter winter weather, was the first since a 1 per cent decrease was reported in 1973, according to Atty. Gen. Griffin B. Beil. It also was the greatest decline since the FBI began issuing quarterly reports in 1958.

Property crimes, down 9 per cent, led the decline. Within that group, larceny-thefts dropped 11 per cent, burglaries 7 per cent, and motor vehicle thefts 4 per cent.

Changes in reported violent crimes were mixed. Murder and robbery decreased 5 and 8 per cent respectively, but forcible rape rose 5 per cent and aggravated assault 1 per cent. Overall, violent crimes dropped 3 per cent.

The nation's crime rate dropped 9 per cent in the first three months of this year over 1976, the largest quarterly reduction in the 19 years the FBI has issued crime reports, the agency said today.

The report listed a bitterly cold winter and heavy snow as possible reasons for the decrease.

Although there were reductions in five of the seven major crime categories, the number of rapes increased 5 per cent and aggravated assaults were up 1 per cent, the FBI said in its Uniform Crime Reports.

The statistics are based on the number of crimes reported to nearly 9,000 state and local law enforcement agencies. Besides rape and assault, the report covers murder, robbery, burglary, larceny and motor vehicle theft.

The sharpest decline was for larceny, 11 per cent. The report showed an 8 per cent decrease for robbery, 7 per cent for burglary, 5 per cent for murder and 4 per cent for motor vehicle theft.

The statistics showed an over-all decrease in the crime rate in cities, suburbs and rural areas alike, although the decline was slightly less in rural areas.

Geographically, the reduction ranged from 16 per cent in north-central states to 3 per cent in the West.

Ohioans Sweltering

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first heat wave of the summer threatened to melt power usage records across Ohio, but electric companies were confident they could keep up with the demand.

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. predicted Wednesday it would top the peak load record it set Tuesday, and Dayton Power and Light Co. was confident it would top its high demand for electricity.

"We have been sending some (power) on west" to Indiana and Illinois, said a spokesman for Canton's Ohio Power Co.

"The reason we are in as good a shape as we are is because of a big industrial vacation," the spokesman said. "A number of plants are closed down. Also, a number of coal companies (in Ohio and West Virginia) are 300 megawatts off load" because vacations have cut their output.

Higher electricity use was expected Wednesday because "the first day of a heat wave customers tend to back off from the use of air conditioning," a spokesman for Akron's Ohio Edison explained. "Humidity is a big factor, too. Then if the heat wave continues, they will use their air conditioning. We expect to be up today (Wednesday) because of the increase in humidity."

"Generally the second or third day of a heat wave you get this kind of a reaction," a DP&L spokesman said. "The first day people put up with it to a degree. The second day they say 'go with it.' I feel certain we will have a record today (Wednesday) because we were so close yesterday."

The Columbus power company's new mark was 1,840 megawatts at 5 p.m. Tuesday, surpassing the 1,776 megawatt record set last July. The company predicted a usage of 1,900 megawatts Wednesday.

Ohio Power's peak load was 4,012 megawatts at 2 p.m. It did not expect to reach the 4,012 megawatt record set Jan. 13.

Ohio Edison' peak load was 3,730 megawatts at 3 p.m. Tuesday. It predicted a peak of 3,775 megawatts

Wednesday. Its record was 3,847 megawatts Jan. 11.

And Dayton Power and Light customers used 1,852 megawatts of power at 4 p.m. Tuesday, close to the 1,858 megawatt record set Jan. 10.

But while people and livestock sweltered—the National Weather Service advised special care and warned transporting livestock would be risky—crops were doing fine.

"The rain last week really was helpful," said Homer Carter of the state Crop Reporting Service. "The average height of corn now is 37 inches. Normal (height) is 31 inches, although last year at this time it was 39 inches. A few of the early fields have begun to silk. The wheat harvest is in full swing.

"The problem (with the heat drying out the fields) will be that we are going to need additional moisture sooner," Carter said. "If we get it we will be okay."

The National Weather Service said a high pressure system squatting over the southeastern part of the country is expected to continue to spread tropical air over the eastern two-thirds of the country at least until Friday. "Thunderstorms are predicted for Friday or Saturday."

REMEMBER WHEN? — Frosty the snowman looks comfortable in the above picture, but he probably wouldn't care much for the 90 degree temperatures in Pickaway County and much of Ohio during this week. Many people in the area remember scenes from last winter like the one pictured above, and for the most part they state that they will take the heat and humidity over Frosty's favorite climate. Those people will probably get their wish, at least until Friday, as temperatures are forecast to hover in the low to mid 90s until the end of the week, when there will be a chance of rain. Anyone for a good snowball fight?

Social Security Data Unguarded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dozens of computer terminals sit idle, untended and often unlocked at night in a huge office in suburban Baltimore.

Property of the Social Security Administration, the terminals contain confidential personal information on tens of millions of Americans. Yet they are easy targets for fraud, government auditors say.

"Security procedures and controls ... were not adequate to prevent fraud and abuse or to assure compliance with the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974," said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare audit agency report.

For example, the audit found almost half of the 69 terminals in the SSA headquarters were in areas such as large open rooms that could not be locked at night.

The computer's 2,200 terminals all over the country can be locked electronically to prevent unauthorized use. But auditors found 59 of the 69 terminals in the Maryland office were left unlocked overnight at least once in a four-week period.

The computer system contains records on the more than 27 million Americans who receive more than $81 billion annually in Social Security checks and Supplement Security Income payments, including the amount of payments, family income and assets, medical histories and marital status.

Social Security employees use the computer system to process millions of new claims for benefits received each year. The system maintains records on all current benefit payments under the various Social Security programs, including Medicare and disability payments.

"The weaknesses (in the system) adversely affected the SSA's capability to protect the integrity of its data and prevent a compromise of personal data retained in the program records," the audit said.

The report on the audit, conducted last year, gave a laundry list of the problems with the system, including lack of terminal security:

—Reports on possible violations of computer security were too late to be useful and often were inaccurate.

—Too many employees knew the passwords that give access to the personal information, when their jobs did not require such knowledge.

—The computer programs designed to provide additional security were ineffective in blocking unauthorized use of the system.

Reps. John Moss, D-Calif., and Charles Rose, D-N.C., who made the report public, have asked for a General Accounting Office study of the computer system. The study is in preparation.

Jimmy Hardman Killed In Truck Accident

Jimmy D. Hardman, 38, 28476 Tarlton Adelphi Road, was killed early today when he swerved his rig off Interstate 70 into a downtown Wheeling, W. Va., street below in an attempt to avoid crashing into a car, authorities said.

The tractor-trailer caught fire following the crash, apparently in a series of explosions that were heard by persons in a nearby apartment building.

"It just kept on exploding," said one person in the building. Another said it sounded as if there were four explosions.

Traffic through the main area of town was blocked for several hours after the 3 a.m. crash, authorities said.

According to a police desk sergeant, the crash was caused by a CB operator who had slowed down just before going into the Wheeling Tunnel in order to complete a conversation. But a state police trooper investigating the crash said he did not know if that report was true.

The distance from the Interstate roadway to the downtown street was about the length of the tractor-trailer, authorities said. The back end of the rig was still hanging against the Interstate after the accident.

Police evacuated residents of the apartment building for several hours until the fire was under control.

Hardman's brother, Leonard F., was killed in an automobile-run-a-way trailer accident on Route 56 in Hocking County on May 25.

He is the son of Donald and Josephine Stumbo Hardman of Laurelville. He is survived by his widow, Constance, and two sons, Rex and Kerry.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by Wellman Funeral Home.

ROUNDTOWN

COUNTY Road 511 will be closed all day Sunday for the installation of new storm sewers across the road.

July 14 is the deadline for making listing changes in the Circleville phone directory, General Telephone Co. of Ohio announced today.

William D. Anderson, Circleville customer service manager, said any customer with an incorrect listing should notify the company's service office no later than July 14.

Customers planning to move or persons wanting a phone installed before October 1 also are asked to call the company.

"If we know of changes in advance, we can make sure the customer's name, address and phone number are listed correctly in the new book," Anderson said.

He explained the 1977 directory is being compiled and is scheduled to be delivered in October.

Other communities listed in the book with Circleville are Ashville, Laurelville and Williamsport.

Medicaid Cutoff Slated In Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — About 27,000 Ohio residents will no longer be eligible for Medicaid benefits after August 1, the Plain Dealer reported today.

Persons being disqualified are those that have too much monthly income, too many assets or are also covered by Medicare, the Veterans Administration, or private disability insurance, an Ohio Department of Public Welfare spokesman said.

Cadet Dispatchers Await Academy

POST DISPATCHERS — Peggy Smith and Dale Harmon work at Highway Patrol Post 65 as dispatchers. Both have signed up for the Highway Patrol Academy and are waiting for the next class to start.

Although Dale Harmon and Peggy Smith are cadet dispatchers at the Circleville Post 65 of the Ohio Highway Patrol, their main goal is to attend patrol academy classes to train as troopers.

Both Harmon and Miss Smith applied for the academy, but because of the energy shortage and other factors, the applicants are now trained as dispatchers before being sent to the academy.

Miss Smith said two females signed up for the last academy and one female graduated. She has heard that as many as 20 have applied for the next classes.

Harmon explained that their training is different from that of a civilian dispatcher because the cadets "maintain themselves with a physical fitness program."

After working one of the three shifts as dispatcher, both Harmon and Miss Smith follow an exercise program based on their height and weight. It includes mile runs, push-ups, sit-ups and other exercises that improve the dispatchers physically.

Both of the new dispatchers have the freedom to explore anything in the patrol post. "We are allowed to check tickets, records or anything that would help us learn about the job of a trooper," Miss Smith said.

She added that the troopers and civilian dispatchers are very helpful with the details of working in the post.

Market Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices slipped again today amid concern over the economic outlook. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials showed a slight loss in early trading.

Declines took a 7-6 lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market was weighed down by concern that the growth rate of the economy might slow late this year and in 1978.

Today's prices included American Telephone & Telegraph, up 3/4 at 62 1/2; Carrier Corp., down 1/4 at 17; Exxon, up 1/4 at 53 1/4, and Digital Equipment, steady at 45 1/2.

Sears Roebuck, which reported a 14.3 per cent June sales gain, picked up 3/4 to 58.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average fell 5.86 to 907.73.

Losers outnumbered gainers by about a 5-3 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume stepped up to 21.23 million shares from Tuesday's five-week low of 16.85 million.

The NYSE's composite index lost .25 to 54.67.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .06 at 119.87.

Bargaining Bill Draws New Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University President Harold Enarson added his voice Wednesday night to those opposing a controversial bill establishing collective bargaining procedures for Ohio's public employees.

Enarson told the House Commerce and Labor Committee he is mostly concerned about the effects on higher education, but that he thinks the bill generally is "injurious to the public interest."

Among sections of the bill assailed by the president of Ohio's largest university were those, among others, which include supervisory personnel as eligible members of bargaining units, list as negotiable "matters of professional employee concern," enable unions to become bargaining agents without an actual vote of employees, and provide for a so-called "agency shop."

Under the latter, an employee who doesn't belong to a union can be required to pay dues to the union anyway.

Enarson said he opposes the agency shop primarily because the bill gives no assurances that the dues would not be used for political purposes.

"I urge that the agency shop arrangement be prohibited, or that adequate safeguards be built into this bill to protect the rights of employees who do not support unions," Enarson told the committee headed by Rep. J. Leonard Camera, D-53 Lorain.

Set Animal Regulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. John H. Kellogg, R-70 Orwell, has won 87-7 House approval of his bill making it punishable by a fine of $250 to permit the running loose of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, swine or geese.

The Ashtabula County lawmaker endured some skepticism from big city lawmakers Wednesday, but assured the House "this is a serious problem in our rural areas."

In response to one question from a Cleveland, Kellogg said his bill wasn't designed to take care of problems caused by dogs or cats and that "they can be taken care of in a separate bill."

His measure also increases the amount local officials may charge for picking up animals running loose, from five to ten times current fees which range 25 cents to $1. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Meat Production Upswing Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meat production by the nation's federally inspected packing companies is continuing to run above a year ago.

The Agriculture Department says that total red meat output last week was 666.9 million pounds, up 5 per cent from 636.2 million pounds in the comparable period of last year.

Compared with a year earlier, beef production was up 2 per cent to 458.3 million pounds, and pork up 13 per cent to 193.2 million pounds. Calf and veal output, at 9.3 million pounds, was down 1 per cent, while lamb and mutton production rose 11 per cent to 6.1 million pounds.

ENTERPRISING ENVIRONMENTALISTS — Jeff Dean, 6, and his brother Steven, 9, have been spending part of their summer vacation picking up litter. They have covered the northern section of town and are presently working on the downtown area. The environmentalists charge for their services, though, as they discuss price before cleaning the area. As far as Steven is concerned, "we're not going to quit this until we get all of Circleville." It all started because their father, Gary Dean was chairman of the Chamber's Clean Up Week. The boys said there were so many trash bags left, they thought they ought to do something with them.

"When I first started using the radio, I couldn't understand the voices or codes," she said. Now it is natural to recognize who is talking.

Harmon has been at the Circleville post since May 9. He is originally from Iowa and received a B.S. degree in zoology at Iowa State University. He has lived in Columbus for five years. Before deciding to sign up for the academy Harmon worked in the reptile department at the Columbus Zoo.

His main reason for entering the Highway Patrol is because of the outside work. Besides the clean air factor, Harmon said "the hazards are known, but avoidable," with a troopers job. With something like factory work the hazards aren't known because of the chemicals and machinery, Harmon said.

Miss Smith signed up for the patrol because it involves working with the public. She is always finding ways to increase her knowledge and couldn't pass up this chance to improve herself.

The qualification test before being accepted includes conditioning and a battery of personality tests. It also includes a thorough investigation into the applicants background.

Before passing the academy, each student must still pass an agility test. According to Miss Smith, this includes running, carrying stretchers, changing tires and even pushing a patrol car.

The present physical training will come in handy, she said, for the agility tests at the academy. There is no separate training for males and females, since everyone must have the ability to do the same jobs.

Miss Smith grew up in the "country" area around Cincinnati. She transferred to Ashville two months ago. Presently, she is "pacing out time before the academy." The dispatching work has been beneficial because it helped clarify the decision to join the highway patrol, she said.

There are presently five dispatchers at the local post. Miss Smith is the first female cadet dispatcher at Post 65.

The first female civilian dispatcher, Georgia Melvin, has worked the day shift for 11 years. At the time she was hired, she was only the second female hired in the state. Mrs. Melvin remembers that the troopers as well as herself were quite "apprehensive" about a female being present in the patrol post. Their fears were soon gone, as 11 years later she still holds the same position.

Credit Card Bill Sent To House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Improper use of a credit card involving purchase of $150 or more could saddle an offender with a five-year prison term and $2,500 fine, under a bill headed for the House.

The legislation, sponsored by Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, raises to a fourth-degree felony the current misdemeanor penalty. It would also apply to credit violation in which the suspect has a prior record for theft.

The bill was approved 32-0 by the Senate Wednesday.

Market Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices slipped again today amid concern over the economic outlook. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks showed a slight loss in early trading.

Declines took a 7-6 lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market was weighed down by concern that the growth rate of the economy might slow late this year and in 1978.

Today's prices included American Telephone & Telegraph, up 3/8 at 62 1/2; Carrier Corp., down 1/8 at 17; Exxon, up 1/4 at 53 1/4, and Digital Equipment, steady at 45 1/8.

Sears Roebuck, which reported a 14.3 per cent June sales gain, picked up 3/8 to 58.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average fell 5.86 to 907.73.

Losers outnumbered gainers by about a 5-3 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume stepped up to 21.23 million shares from Tuesday's five-week low of 16.85 million.

The NYSE's composite index lost .25 to 54.67.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .06 at 119.87.

Bargaining Bill Draws New Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University President Harold Enarson added his voice Wednesday night to those opposing a controversial bill establishing collective bargaining procedures for Ohio's public employees.

Enarson told the House Commerce and Labor Committee he is mostly concerned about the effects on higher education, but that he thinks the bill generally is "injurious to the public interest."

Among sections of the bill assailed by the president of Ohio's largest university were those, among others, which include supervisory personnel as eligible members of bargaining units, list as negotiable "matters of professional employee concern," enable unions to become bargaining agents without an actual vote of employees, and provide for a so-called "agency shop."

Under the latter, an employee who doesn't belong to a union can be required to pay dues to the union anyway.

Enarson said he opposes the agency shop primarily because the bill gives no assurances that the dues would not be used for political purposes.

"I urge that the agency shop arrangement be prohibited, or that adequate safeguards be built into this bill to protect the rights of employees who do not support unions," Enarson told the committee headed by Rep. J. Leonard Camera, D-53 Lorain.

Set Animal Regulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. John H. Kellogg, R-70 Orwell, has won 87-7 House approval of his bill making it punishable by a fine of $250 to permit the running loose of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, swine or geese.

The Ashtabula County lawmaker endured some skepticism from big city lawmakers Wednesday, but assured the House "this is a serious problem in our rural areas."

In response to one question from a Cleveland, Kellogg said his bill wasn't designed to take care of problems caused by dogs or cats and that "they can be taken care of in a separate bill."

His measure also increases the amount local officials may charge for picking up animals running loose, from five to ten times current fees which range 25 cents to $1. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Meat Production Upswing Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meat production by the nation's federally inspected packing companies is continuing to run above a year ago.

The Agriculture Department says that total red meat output last week was 666.9 million pounds, up 5 per cent from 636.2 million pounds in the comparable period of last year.

Compared with a year earlier, beef production was up 2 per cent to 458.3 million pounds, and pork up 13 per cent to 193.2 million pounds. Calf and veal output, at 9.3 million pounds, was down 1 per cent, while lamb and mutton production rose 11 per cent to 6.1 million pounds.

ENTERPRISING ENVIRONMENTALISTS — Jeff Dean, 6, and his brother Steven, 9, have been spending part of their summer vacation picking up litter. They have covered the northern section of town and are presently working on the downtown area. The environmentalists charge for their services, though, as they discuss price before cleaning the area. As far as Steven is concerned, "we're not going to quit this until we get all of Circleville." It all started because their father, Gary Dean was chairman of the Chamber's Clean Up Week. The boys said there were so many trash bags left, they thought they ought to do something with them.

Cadet Dispatchers ...

"When I first started using the radio, I couldn't understand the voices or codes," she said. Now it is natural to recognize who is talking.

Harmon has been at the Circleville post since May 9. He is originally from Iowa and received a B.S. degree in zoology at Iowa State University. He has lived in Columbus for five years. Before deciding to sign up for the academy Harmon worked in the reptile department at the Columbus Zoo.

His main reason for entering the Highway Patrol is because of the outside work. Besides the clean air factor, Harmon said "the hazards are known, but avoidable," with a troopers job. With something like factory work the hazards aren't known because of the chemicals and machinery, Harmon said.

Miss Smith signed up for the patrol because it involves working with the public. She is always finding ways to increase her knowledge and couldn't pass up this chance to improve herself.

The qualification test before being accepted includes conditioning and a battery of personality tests. It also includes a thorough investigation into the applicants background.

Before passing the academy, each student must still pass an agility test. According to Miss Smith, this includes running, carrying stretchers, changing tires and even pushing a patrol car.

The present physical training will come in handy, she said, for the agility tests at the academy. There is no separate training for males and females, since everyone must have the ability to do the same jobs.

Miss Smith grew up in the "country" area around Cincinnati. She transferred to Ashville two months ago. Presently, she is "pacing out time before the academy." The dispatching work has been beneficial because it helped clarify the decision to join the highway patrol, she said.

There are presently five dispatchers at the local post. Miss Smith is the first female cadet dispatcher at Post 65.

The first female civilian dispatcher, Georgia Melvin, has worked the day shift for 11 years. At the time she was hired, she was only the second female hired in the state. Mrs. Melvin remembers that the troopers as well as herself were quite "apprehensive" about a female being present in the patrol post. Their fears were soon gone, as 11 years later she still holds the same position.

Germes Tested On White House?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Germ warfare tests at the White House? You'd better believe it.

They weren't conducted yesterday, or even last year. In fact, the whole business nearly has become lost in the mists of history. What makes the subject current is an apparent difference of opinion between the Pentagon and President Carter's White House over a reporter's request for details.

The Army acknowledged earlier this year it had turned loose nonlethal germs some years back in such public places here as the sprawling Pentagon, National Airport and the Greyhound bus depot before President Richard M. Nixon ordered a halt to all such activities in 1969.

This disclosure led to a rumor that the White House also had been a target for germ warfare experiments.

In response to an inquiry, a Pentagon spokesman said that "at the request of the White House staff, the Army in 1962 tested the air intake system of a portion of the White House." He said nonlethal bacteriological agents were employed.

Pressed for details, the spokesman said nothing would please him more than to provide an elaboration. However, he said he was under orders from the White House to say nothing further.

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell later said he knew nothing about the tests or about any gag order to the Pentagon. Ditto for Jerrold Schecter, spokesman for the National Security Council. Ditto for John Warner, spokesman for the Secret Service.

So the whole affair remains as mysterious as those little microbes that floated around some part of the White House back when John F. Kennedy was president.

When Jimmy Carter walks, everybody — well, almost everybody — walks, too.

Eight sedans and station wagons were drawn up in a line when the President, relatives, aides, friends and bodyguards arrived by helicopter at Camp David, Md., for the July 4th weekend.

Carter moved directly toward his sedan, at the head of the line, conferred briefly with some of his fellow travelers, then picked up James Earl Carter IV, his 4-month-old grandson. Turning away from the waiting vehicle, Carter stepped briskly down an asphalt roadway leading to his weekend lodge about a quarter-mile away. Wife Rosalynn and almost everyone else did the same.

Except for the infant, everyone walked save the drivers of the eight vehicles. The drivers pulled their cars into line behind the President and followed at a walking pace. It was Camp David's version of a holiday parade.

Importance Of Profit

More than 50 years ago Samuel Gompers, then president of the American Federation of Labor, said, "the worst crime against working people is a company which fails to operate at a profit." Those words are equally applicable in 1977.

There is no substitute for profits in the American economy. They fuel the productive machinery. Without them faster growth is impossible because expansions and modernizations cannot be financed. If growth is subsidized by government action, the American economic system will be diluted with an increasing amount of state socialism.

New industrial developments are imminent. If they are financed by a vigorous private enterprise system, America will continue to forge ahead and remain competitive. If government action becomes the mainspring, the American economy will lose much of its traditional vigor.

Polls have shown the average American to be ill informed about both the profit role in a growing economy and the average profit earned by industry. In 1975, the 500 largest corporations earned a profit of 3.9 cents on each sales dollar.

3.9 cents on each sales dollar.

To create one new job, an average investment of $41,000 is made by the private sector. Publicizing the important role of profit and how difficult it is to attain produces a better informed citizenry.

You Didn't Ask, But . . .

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Everything you never wanted to know about questions it never occurred to you to ask . . .

Q. Is blushing neurotic?

A. Yes. It's as clear as the rose on your face.

There was a time when blushing was considered a symptom of innocence; "nice girls" blushed; "fast girls" stayed cool and pale. But times change, and psychoanalysts fool around with theories.

So the latest theory is that blushing is a subconscious ploy to attract attention. Says Dr. Sandor S. Feldman, "One who blushes is seeking - for libidinous, aggressive or self-preservative purposes - to obtain attention from others. Of course, to be seen and noticed is a basic desire of most people, but blushers have specific complexes. While they desire attention, they also dread it. This inner conflict is what causes the flush. Their psychological confusion bursts to the surface like a concentration of measles."

Blushing begins at an early age, and tends to fade as a person gains a sense of self-identity. Therefore, "If a teenager does not blush, it is a signal that the teenager has achieved a sense of mature self-assuredness, in which the simultaneous search for, and dread of, attention is no longer a factor in life."

Q. You are what you eat. True or false?

A. False. If you eat pork, you're not necessarily a pig. If you eat candy, you are not necessarily sweet.

Psychologically speaking, however, your eating habits may be a clue to your psyche. According to a medical journal, you may consider some far-reaching assumptions:

An adult with a craving for sweets could feel unloved, and is trying to recapture the past when sweets were commonly a reward for good behavior. Midnight snackers are using food for reassurance, since Mommy isn't on hand to cuddle. And if you like meats rare, you are trying to prove your virility by associating primarily with ancestors who slew and consumed raw beasts.

If you believe all this, you also are gullible.

Q. Are women really more fearful of mice than men are?

A. Yes, indeed. University studies have shown that most women will startle at the sight of the mouse, quivering at the abrupt speed of the rodent more than fear of what it might do. Proving, perhaps, that women are not naturally prepared for the rat race.

In fact, the Illinois Institute of Technology concluded after extensive testing that women are more fearful of almost everything, from mice through matrimonial and money problems, than men are. However, they are also quicker to react to danger than men will. Never underestimate the powerful protective instincts of a woman.

Q. Is it true that "you are only as old as you feel"?

A. The Physical Fitness Laboratory of the University of Illinois released the startling opinion that we are all "middle-aged" at 26.

Apparently physical fitness improves, for both males and females, for a number of years after birth. Throughout youth, we grow stronger. Then at about age 17 for boys, and 14 for girls, we hit a physical peak - and stay at this peak until 25. "Then," said the Fitness Lab researchers, "middle age begins." To sum up: You're a whole lot older than you feel.

Q. Will wife-swapping ever be socially acceptable?

A. Absolutely not.

Remember, these are liberated times and for every wife who's swapped, there has to be an exchanged husband.

The socially acceptable term will be "person-swapping."

Q. Should parents worry if their children hate school?

A. Most children, especially boys, dislike school to the point of hatred at various stages in their curricula. John F. Kennedy despised school for several years, as did Winston Churchill.

Child experts say that unless the dislike is intense and prolonged, parents' worry will only aggravate the problem. So the answer is: parents shouldn't worry.

Statistics now show that by the time pupils graduate from high school and are faced with a choice between work and college, the majority suddenly decide they like school and want to go on to college. Each year of college is likely to cost thousands of dollars. This is the time to worry.

Q. Which professionals suffer the most from dandruff?

A. Statistical evidence indicates that the most dandruff-prone professionals are persons in advertising, retailing and journalism.

Q. What is a cure for insomnia?

A. Marlene Dietrich says the answer is simple: "Whenever possible, sleep with someone you love."

If you can't do that, she recommended, eat a salami sandwich with onion to fend off the heebie-jeebies.

When all else fails, read columns like this.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Wanna make a bet? Here are two forecasts of government statistics to be released Friday morning:

—The Wholesale Price Index for June will be down four-tenths of 1 per cent, the first monthly drop — not just a decline in the rate of advance — in 10 months.

—The unemployment rate for June will rise three-tenths of 1 per cent over May, to 7.2 per cent, although a chance exists it might come out at 7.1.

These numbers are products of one of the computer pastimes that has developed in recent years, the forecasting of important government statistics on which many business, government and other decisions will be based.

There is more than an academic interest in such forecasts; many practical business decisions can be made by anticipating the numbers. Consider, for example, the advantage in the stock and bond markets.

Julius Shiskin, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, recently stated his concern about possible leaks of some numbers to securities market investors. Invariably the numbers are cited as among the reasons the market rises or falls.

Shiskin's fear was that the numbers, heretofore released at 10 a.m., were getting into the hands of some investors a few minutes earlier, permitting them to use this information at the opening of the market, also at 10 a.m.

He now has changed the release time to 9 a.m. on the theory that news that has been publicized for a full hour is so widely known that it cannot be used to unfair advantage by a privileged few.

But, while the commissioner's concern is commendable, the fact is you sometimes don't have to wait for the facts. Sharp estimates of the numbers are widely circulated throughout investment circles.

This uncanny accuracy is actually within the limits of the sampling error, or the error that government statisticians are willing to concede because of accumulated minor imperfections in the gathering and processing of data.

Donald Ratajczak, who heads the Georgia State unit, uses a price sample only 15 per cent as large as the government's. He has nobody out in the field, as has the government. He uses published prices, and some estimates.

Various businesses contribute to and make use of the data. All the major banks in Atlanta are customers, he says, presumably because the WPI, a measure of inflation, can influence bond prices and interest rates.

Albert Sindlinger, chairman of Sindlinger & Co., a Media, Pa., market research firm, has stated again and again that the government's seasonal adjusting techniques are bollixed, forcing them to juggle the figures.

Even so, he hazards the forecast of 7.1 to 7.2 per cent unemployment, based on his projection of the unemployed, made from a telephone sample in the week of June, when the government conducted its study, and adjusted by the government formula.

Sindlinger claims that for 18 years his raw count of the employed never varied from the official count by more than 1 per cent, but that in April and May 1974 something went wrong. He maintains it was and is the government's seasonal adjustment techniques.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1846, the American flag was raised at Monterey, California after surrender of the Mexican garrison, and the U.S. annexation of California was proclaimed.

On this date:

In 1801, the black general, Toussaint l'Ouverture, proclaimed Haiti's independence from France.

In 1865, four people were hanged after being named as accomplices of John Wilkes Booth in the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln.

In 1898, the U.S. annexed Hawaii.

In 1941, during World War Two, U.S. forces landed in Iceland to forestall any Nazi invasion.

In 1958, President Dwight Eisenhower signed the Alaska statehood bill.

In 1973, 23 people were executed in Iraq on charges they had plotted to overthrow the government.

Ten years ago: U.S. Vietnam commander William Westmoreland urged the Pentagon to provide up to 100,000 more troops for the Vietnam War and said the Allies were winning slowly but surely.

Five years ago: Heavy rain in many parts of Japan triggered floods and mudslides that caused a death toll of more than 400.

One year ago: The Indonesian government said 9,000 people died in an earthquake in New Guinea.

Today's birthdays: French fashion designer Pierre Cardin is 55 years old. Ringo Starr, formerly of the Beatles is 37.

Thought for today: History is more or less bunk — Henry Ford, 1863-1947.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I was once a heavy alcohol drinker. I was warned that I had cirrhosis of the liver so I finally gave it up. Now, with my rebirth, I wonder if my liver can ever return to normal.

Mr. E. E., Va.

Dear Mr. E.:

Cirrhosis of the liver is a very complex phenomenon. Alcohol is only one of the causes. When it occurs, the normal architecture of the liver is changed by scar tissue, and thus affects proper functioning of the liver.

This major organ of the body is the clearing house for most toxic substances that circulate in the blood. When cirrhosis is diagnosed early and when its cause has been completely eliminated, the liver can be helped to maintain its important function.

Progression of the scar tissue may be stopped. But there is little or no chance that the scar tissue already formed will disappear.

Total abstinence from alcohol, an excellent nutritious diet and vitamin supplements can stop the progression of liver damage.

My wife is in a state of panic. She was at a luncheon party and a palm reader expert scared her about her "life line." Can I ask you to support me by telling her that this is all a pile of nonsense?

—Mr. G. B., Minn.

Dear Mr. B.

Let me frankly state that there is no validity to the idea that a particular line in the palm predetermines longevity.

Many people are caught in the trap of such mysticism and unfounded advice. Far too often fears are implanted into the sensitive psyche of people by game-playing "experts." Long after these glib entertainers have departed from the scene, their seeds of anxiety continue to multiply.

I have developed unbearable pains in the toes in the last four months. I wait for the pain to disappear, but it just doesn't. Can you guess what would cause this?

Miss R. I., Wash., D. C.

Dear Miss I.:

A visit to your doctor should have been made a long time ago.

The doctor's examination, including X-Rays, will reveal the cause.

I will indulge myself with a tiny guess. There is an unusual condition known as "Morton's Neuroma" or "Morton's Toe." This small, non-cancerous tumor, in the web space between the third and fourth toes, can cause severe pain.

Retired Pharmacist Also Pool Wizard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Andrew Clark, 79, chalked his cue, slammed the two ball into a side pocket and greeted his class:

"Good morning ladies. This is a pool cue," he said, showing them the slender tapered stick.

The retired pharmacist surveyed a class of five women, all aged 60 or more, waiting for instruction at the senior activities center in suburban Upper Arlington.

What followed was nearly an hour of teaching the game of pool, which Clark gives nearly every morning.

Clark has been at the game since he was 12. He started teaching it two years ago at various community centers in Columbus. He admits to having picked up a dollar or two at the game over the years.

"I never did anything great with the money that I won from playing pool," he said. "I didn't put myself through school. All I did was spend it."

As an instructor, Clark shows endless patience in explaining the basics and the rules of the game.

He appears not to notice when a student asks, "Now what does that mean, putting the eight ball in the pocket? Does it have anything to do with being behind the eight ball?"

He helps each class member in turn, correcting grips, lining up shots, making a suggestion for the best approach.

Clark even bends the rules to help in teaching. "For your purpose," he told a student, "we can move the ball over here."

He winds up the lesson with an exhibition of his skills.

Against a younger opponent, Clark ran the table twice, failing only on a difficult two-rail carom.

After watching him, some of the women stay around for more practice, with seeming renewed determination.

"Women aren't as good as men," he commented while watching practice.

"They don't have the sense of direction that men do."

Sunflower Seed Production Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production of sunflower seed, used primarily to produce vegetable oil, is up this year, according to the Agriculture Department.

Farmers in North Dakota planted 1.2 million acres this year, a 94 per cent increase from 620,000 planted in 1976. Sunflower planting in Minnesota, at 460,000 acres, was more than double the 214,000 acres last year, according to USDA's Crop Reporting Board.

About 83 per cent of the North Dakota crop was planted for the seed's oil and about 89 per cent of the Minnesota crop was for that purpose, officials said. Other uses include sunflower seed for roasting as food.

Two other states — South Dakota and Texas — have been added to USDA's sunflower seed statistics. The South Dakota crop is about 180,000 acres this year, and Texas 250,000. No previous statistics were kept by the department.

Prison Worker Organization Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A statewide push to organize 5,000 workers is being planned by the Ohio Correctional and Court Services Association.

The newly organized association of probation and parole officers, institutional workers and domestic relations court workers, plans an "activist" role, president James C. Imfeld said following the recent annual meeting.

A meeting to organize a statewide professional criminal justice council is planned for later in July.

He now has changed the release time to 9 a.m. on the theory that news that has been publicized for a full hour is so widely known that it cannot be used to unfair advantage by a privileged few.

But, while the commissioner's concern is commendable, the fact is you sometimes don't have to wait for the facts. Sharp estimates of the numbers are widely circulated throughout investment circles.

This uncanny accuracy is actually within the limits of the sampling error, or the error that government statisticians are willing to concede because of accumulated minor imperfections in the gathering and processing of data.

Donald Ratajczak, who heads the Georgia State unit, uses a price sample only 15 per cent as large as the government's. He has nobody out in the field, as has the government. He uses published prices, and some estimates.

Various businesses contribute to and make use of the data. All the major banks in Atlanta are customers, he says, presumably because the WPI, a measure of inflation, can influence bond prices and interest rates.

Albert Sindlinger, chairman of Sindlinger & Co., a Media, Pa., market research firm, has stated again and again that the government's seasonal adjusting techniques are bollixed, forcing them to juggle the figures.

Even so, he hazards the forecast of 7.1 to 7.2 per cent unemployment, based on his projection of the unemployed, made from a telephone sample in the week of June, when the government conducted its study, and adjusted by the government formula.

Sindlinger claims that for 18 years his raw count of the employed never varied from the official count by more than 1 per cent, but that in April and May 1974 something went wrong. He maintains it was and is the government's seasonal adjustment techniques.

Hearing Slated On Firm's Future

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ohio Division of Securities will hold hearings next week on Esmark Inc.'s $178.6 million bid to take over Inmont Corp.

Inmont said Wednesday that upon its request, the state agency will begin hearings on Esmark's $25-a-share offer in Columbus July 11. A decision will be rendered Aug. 15, the chemical maker said.

Esmark is a Chicago-based conglomerate whose divisions include the Swift & Co. meatpacking operations.

Inmont has maintained that Esmark's proposed offer is inadequate.

Ohio Consumerism Mired In Political War

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With enactment of the new budget bill, majority Democrats in the legislature revived, refought, and won one of the battles of the famous "Six Day War" of more than two years ago.

Thanks to their veto-proof majorities in the Senate and House, they were able to put the commerce department out of the consumer protection business and shift the entire state program to Democratic Atty. Gen. William J. Brown.

A bill which would have done the same thing in January 1975, was among six partisan measures Democrats passed six days before former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan surrendered his office to Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Ohio's Supreme Court, then dominated by Republicans, later disallowed the entire six-bill package because former GOP Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, still in office with Gilligan, had refused to affix his normally routine signature.

Even though the die was cast, commerce Director J. Gordon Peltier and the 37-year-old attorney general still were fuming at each other last week over which agency could do the most for Ohio's consumers.

Peltier, a controversial figure whose appointment by Rhodes barely squeaked through the Senate by a single vote, charged the legislature with attempting to bolster Brown's political fortunes "to create a Ralph Nader-like image for him as the ultimate champion of all causes."

Brown countered that Peltier had made "one of his standard cheap shots. Gordon isn't interested in consumers. They just dropped the ball, and we picked it up."

Under the 1972 Consumer Sales Practices Act, the legislature, under Gilligan, created joint responsibilities for the commerce department and attorney general's office to receive and investigate complaints.

The department was to receive complaints and refer those showing "probable cause" of violations to the attorney general's office of consumer frauds for investigation. Apparently, the arrangement never was very effective, even when the department had a Democratic director under Gilligan who was supposed to work with Brown's office.

Robert S. Tongren, chief of consumer complaints in Brown's office, said commerce referred only 54 cases in 1973—the first full year of the act's operation.

Brown said earlier that the commerce department, under Peltier since January 1975, had referred only 17 cases since that time, and none during 1976.

Peltier's office, however, began suffering budget cuts in the legislature shortly after he took over, and after Democrats lost the "Six Day War." In 1975, his consumer division staff was cut in half, from about 30 to 15.

Shortly afterward, Brown established a toll free consumer "hot line" in his office which duplicated a similar service in Peltier's office. Mostly, they have been going separate ways since.

During 1976, Tongren said the attorney general received 16,298 telephone complaints from consumers. Bradley P. Long of the department's consumer division said calls there totaled 21,000 despite the discontinuation of one of two lines due to the budget cuts.

Tongren reported, for the same year, the receipt of 6,150 written complaints, compared to 6,967 by Long.

The attorney general's office claimed to have settled complaints by telephone that resulted in savings to consumers of $383,698 during 1976, and 107 court cases that put $2.25 million back into consumer's pockets.

Long said his office gave up trying to keep track of figures because earlier attempts showed them to be "meaningless for our purposes."

He cited an example in which an Ohioan might be advised over the hot line not to purchase a car with an "as is" clause in the sales contract.

He said it would be impossible to tell how much the consumer might have saved in such a situation.

"We found that we couldn't find physical evidence of savings in many cases, so we gave it up," Long said.

However, he estimated that the department has been able to settle about 50 per cent of the complaints it has received "in favor of the consumer."

With regard to the attorney general's comment that very few cases have been referred there for prosecution, Long noted that the legislature cut $2.15 million from the department's $13.6 million 1975-1977 budget, and made all of the consumer division's $897,000 budget subject to release by the Democrat-dominated state controlling board.

Despite "eight or nine trips" to the board, Long said the department received none of the $897,000 and that eventually, $250,000 of it was provided to the attorney general. "We've been trying to run things over here with funds that should be going to the other divisions, and it's been very frustrating," Long said.

Peltier said his consumer division has tried to keep the program going "despite the attempts of the attorney general and the Democrat (sic) leadership to destroy it. They have finally achieved their goal and the cause of consumer protection has been drastically set back in Ohio."

Brown called the comment "ridiculous." He said "we've had more problems with people who already tried to get help from the commerce department than I could tell you." He charged that some consumers have been given the wrong advice by commerce. "It's a shame," he said.

Report Lincoln 'Got Religion'

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A new book on the religious life of Abraham Lincoln says he became a Christian after his address at the Civil War battlefield at Gettysburg.

The book, "A Heart That Yearned For God," was written by Frederick Owen, a retired evangelist and biblical scholar.

Owen quotes Lincoln as telling friends after the Gettysburg Address, "When I buried my son, I was not a Christian. But when I went to Gettysburg and saw the graves of thousands of our soldiers, I then and there consecrated my life to Christ."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Wife Not Amused By His Red-Hot Tattoo

DEAR ABBY: When Lenny came home from a convention trip, I thought he acted kind of funny. It was two weeks before I found out why. It seems a bunch of the guys went out one night and got tattooed. Well, Lenny had a pair of red lips tattooed on his behind. (He said he asked for a rose, but the artist gave him the lips.)

Lenny says he is sorry, and he wears a large bandage over it so it won't make me mad every time I see it. Is there a way to get that tattoo off his behind?

LENNY'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Yes. Lenny should see a dermatologist (skin specialist).

DEAR ABBY: My mother is the moodiest person on earth. She can wake up feeling fine, and then if anyone does one thing wrong, she's mad for the day. I am 16 years old, and I am sick and tired of her actions. So are my brothers and sisters.

I realize that some women have a difficult time when they reach 40, but enough is enough. Can you please give me some advice on how to get along with her? (Thank you.)

SHERI
DEAR SHERI: Yes. Just for one day, refrain from doing any of the things you know will irritate her. And try to do all the things you know will please her, such as: cleaning up your room; limiting your telephone conversations; keeping the radio and TV low; desisting from complaints about what you don't have or can't do; remaining silent when you'd like to talk back and argue; and keeping the peace with your brothers and sisters. You will then find that living with mother is so much more enjoyable, you'll think you're in the wrong house. (You're welcome.)

DEAR ABBY: My children are just average, but they are good kids. I have no outstanding beauties among my daughters, and while they do have friends, none of them are wildly popular. My sons are average students, just fair in sports, but none of them ever made the team.

A relative of mine has outstanding children. They are popular, good looking, and get lots of honors—and he doesn't let me forget it for a moment. What can I say when he collars me and brags on and on about his kids?

SLOW BURN
DEAR SLOW: Nothing. Just because a jackass brays doesn't mean you have to answer him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WRONG SIDE OF THE TRACKS" IN CLEVELAND: If after all these years her parents refuse to accept you, quit trying. It would be easier to move the tracks.

The Girl Scouts of Camp Miska Day Camp held their annual cook out for the Senior Citizens recently.

Kathy Wamsley, director of the camp welcomed the senior citizens.

The scouts presented a program for the honored guests, which included Indian dances, square dances and songs.

The Senior Citizens Kitchen Band in turn sang songs for the scouts entertainment.

Present for the occasion was Donna Hughes and field director Iana Wall, of the Ohio Seal Girl Scout Council.

Washington Weather Stifling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington is burning, spelled H-O-T. Temperatures over 90 on 10 of the past 11 days. Enough humidity to keep mosquitos happy. Enough bad air for a health warning.

On Wednesday, the thermometer hit 100, the first time in eight years. The forecast is for temperatures of near 100 through Monday, with humidity over 70 per cent.

It's enough to make the city's newly opened air-conditioned subway stations a place to rest as well as wait for a ride. The jobs held by subway employees are among the best in town: working in cool concrete caverns underground, explaining the mysteries of the new train system to tourists and commuters alike.

"This heat makes me feel lazy and evil," said one sufferer, Gunther George, a 49-year-old fruit vendor working at his downtown stand on Wednesday.

Washington wasn't alone. Much of the nation was experiencing temperatures in the 90s on Wednesday, and some sections had readings over 100. In Birmingham, Ala. it was 102; in Detroit, 100; Atlanta, 100; Las Vegas, 105; Phoenix, Ariz., 108; Richmond, 105; Omaha, 100; Des Moines, 103; Dallas-Fort Worth, 100.

Electrical use set a record during the day in Washington, a city of great clusters of airconditioned federal offices.

Highway pavement buckled. And for more than 1 million suburban residents, there wasn't even the retreat of the neighborhood pool to look forward to. A major pumping station was knocked out.

The National Weather Service held little hope that a line of thunderstorms moving into the area from Pennsylvania would dislodge the stifling heat.

More Drug Busts Expected

CINCINNATI (AP) — Up to 90 more persons are expected to be prosecuted by local authorities for drug offenses on information gleaned from a year-long federal and state investigation of a multimillion-dollar wholesale drug distributorship.

A federal grand jury returned 329 racketeering and drug-related charges against 37 persons in the Cincinnati and Middletown, Ohio, areas Wednesday.

The additional information will be made available to local community police.

"We will turn this information over to local authorities for prosecution," said Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert Steinberg of Dayton.

Steinberg said he coordinated the year-long investigation by the FBI, Drug Enforcement Administration, Middletown and Cincinnati police and the Regional Narcotics Unit (RENU) made up of narcotics investigators from all over southwestern Ohio.

Steinberg reported seizures at 16 locations netted "three truck loads" of stolen appliances, furniture, jewelry and a large cache of firearms.

Authorities estimated that $2 million worth of heroin and cocaine were seized in addition to large amounts of controlled substances.

Mature Badger Freed By Club

CINCINNATI (AP) — A mature badger, found in the backyard of a Hamilton County home, has been released unharmed on the property of a conservation club in the western part of the county, wildlife division officials report.

The badger is rare in Ohio, although the animal has been reported in several areas of the state. The Department of Natural Resources says it receives a few badger reports from across the state each year, but adds that this is the first time one has been found to have taken up residence in a housing subdivision.

Game protector Mike Serio said he had to resort to filling up the badger's hole with water before he could capture him.

The indictments accused Herschel Harold Weintrub, 56, Cincinnati, operator of a Middletown jewelry store, and Carl Sutton Jr., 42, Forest Park, Ohio, of being partners in financing the sale of illegal drugs to six narcotics-burglary rings and arranging the sale of stolen goods to pay for the drugs. Bond was set at $300,000 for each of them.

The grand jury said Weintrub and Sutton obtained heroin from Joseph Spinoza Elkins, 39, and Dyttra Ann Carter, 30, Cleveland.

The indictments said the pair also obtained large amounts of controlled substances from Weintrub's brother, Norbert, 52, manager of a Cincinnati-based drug firm.

Others indicted, included the alleged leaders of the drug-burglary gangs, were:

Edwin Adams, 41, Carlisle, former operator of a Franklin, Ohio, jewelry store; Otis Hensley, 29, Franklin; Prince Albert Rankin III, 28, Cincinnati; Samuel Lee Harris, 31, Cincinnati; Charles Craven, 39, and Armentrout Glenn, 48, both of Cincinnati.

Thomas W. Kitchens, head of the Cincinnati FBI office, said a variety of methods were used during the investigation, including wire taps and undercover agents.

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Don't forget to sign up for "Library Fun Time," a two-week program for elementary-school-age children at your public library from 10-11:30 a.m., Monday-Friday, July 18-29. Storytelling, music, films, arts and crafts, and special guest programs are on the agenda for this summer event designed to remind children that libraries offer more than help with school-work.

New books in the Children's Room this week feature some outstanding nonfiction. Small children can start with Tomie dePaola's "The Quicksand Book" which cleverly introduces basic facts about quicksand in a picture book format. Entertains as it informs. (552)

Paper airplane pilots, rejoice! "How to Make and Fly Paper Airplanes" offers "everything anyone needs to know to successfully design and fly a paper airplane," including blueprints for six basic models. Retired naval captain Ralph S. Barnaby, the book's author, also explains the basic aerodynamic forces of flying and of planes of any type. (629.133)

Columbia Gas Eyes Drilling Possibilities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gas company executive Marvin White said Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., needs more time and information before acting on a request by Gov. James A. Rhodes to drill for gas in Ohio.

Rhodes asked White, chairman of Columbia Gas, last week what he thought of drilling 400 gas wells throughout the state by Nov. 1. The governor requested a response within a week.

Keeping his promise, the board chairman said in a letter to Rhodes Wednesday his company needs more time to explore possibilities with its sister company, Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. of Charleston, W.Va.

White also said that Columbia of Ohio will ask for help from Jerry Jordan, Rhodes-appointed chairman of the special Self-Help Committee and counsel for the Ohio Oil and Gas Association.

Jordan will be asked to identify potential or existing wells which are accessible to Columbia Gas, producers who have the drilling capabilities to undertake such a project and where to begin drilling. Rhodes said earlier he hoped 400 wells would produce enough natural gas to keep Ohio warm next winter, even if it is more severe than last winter, the coldest in a century.

White estimated the project could range in cost from $10 billion to $40 billion, depending upon Columbia's investment. Rhodes suggested that Columbia put up 25 per cent to 50 per cent of the cost and leave the remainder to independent drillers.

A problem of interstate distribution could snag the plan if White decides to involve Columbia Gas Transmission in the drilling.

The transmission corporation serves gas companies in several states, and is regulated by the Federal Power Commission. If Columbia Transmission drills the wells, Ohio natural gas would go to other states—a possibility Rhodes opposes.

For the stout-hearted, "Nightmares: Poems to Trouble Your Sleep" is poetry at its best. Written by Jack Prelutsky with illustrations by Arnold Lobel, each of these thirteen poems concentrates on a special form of evil, from the bogeyman "with his steely sharp claws and his slaving jaws" to the "Gruesome ghoul" who "waits patiently beside the school - to feast on girls and boys." As "Kirkus Reviews" states, "Prelutsky and Arnold Lobel, in a performance as polished as a vampire's incisor, conjure up an ogre's gallery that makes other monster poems turn pale." (811)

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Floyd and Anita Bryant Dropped By Agency

MIAMI (AP) — Singer Anita Bryant's talent agency is dropping her because of her battle against homosexuals.

"It's not in keeping with her career or my professional standing," Dick Shack of the Agency for the Performing Arts said Wednesday in reference to a soon-to-be published book by Miss Bryant about the Save Our Children campaign.

Miss Bryant, who does television commercials for Florida orange juice, helped organize the group that waged a successful campaign for repeal of a Dade County law that made it illegal to deny job and housing opportunities to homosexuals.

Shack is the husband of Dade County Commissioner Ruth Shack, who sponsored the law when it was put on the books last January.

Heat Wave Blankets Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Much of America sweltered Wednesday and wondered whether the below-zero weather of last winter was really so bad after all as temperatures soared into the 90s and 100s. Not much relief is in sight.

In Washington, D.C., temperatures have been over 90 for the past 10 days and hit 100 for the first time in eight years. The coolest area in Alabama was 93 and it reached 102 in Birmingham and Centreville.

Elsewhere, it reached 100 in Atlanta, 105 in Las Vegas, 108 in Phoenix, Ariz.; 105 in Richmond, Va.; 100 in Omaha, Neb.; 103 in Des Moines, Iowa; and 100 in Dallas-Ft. Worth.

Early morning temperatures continued warm — mostly in the 70s and low 80s — over the eastern half of the nation, except near the Canadian border.

Seventeen tornadoes were reported Wednesday, nine in Wisconsin and six in Iowa. Twisters were also sighted in North Dakota and Michigan.

Thunderstorm winds estimated at 80 miles per hour did considerable damage at Fort Dodge, Iowa. Severe thunderstorms also caused some injuries at Conneaut in northeast Ohio and one injury at Denzer, Wis.

There were several reports of wind damage to trees and power lines across parts of Wisconsin, Iowa, Pennsylvania and Delaware. A severe thunderstorm also hit Fort Smith, Ark., doing damage to trees and windows.

Early morning temperatures across the nation at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 92 degrees in Phoenix and in Needles, Calif., to 41 degrees in Houlton, Maine, and in Butte, Mont.

Mahon To Retire From Congress

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Rep. George Mahon says he will retire at the close of his current term, ending a 44-year career in Congress and a 52-year career in public office.

The Texas Democrat, who has served longer in the U.S. House of Representatives than any of his colleagues, said Wednesday he will not seek reelection in 1978. He did not disclose his future plans.

"I promised myself long ago that I would not seek to serve in Congress after reaching age 80, a milestone I would pass prior to the conclusion of another two-year term," said the 77-year-old Mahon, the only congressman the 19th district of West Texas has ever had.

Hot Kids Love Sammy's Whammys

NEW YORK (AP) — Hell hath no fury like the sidewalks of New York on a steamy summer day.

East Side, West Side, all around the town, boys and girls cavort under fireplug sprinklers, splash in gutter rivulets, run barefoot from shade to shade on soft asphalt. On 20th Street a block from the East River, they line up at Sam the ice cream man's white pushcart.

Sam Batchoff, a man of good humor, has been selling ice cream at the same corner for 30 years.

"What is Nathan's famous for?" Sam calls out.

"Hot dogs!" chorus the kids gathered around his cart.

"What is Sam famous for?" "Sammy's Whammys!" cry the kids, and run away laughing.

A Whammy, for the benefit of all over 12, is a cold confection on a stick and costs 10 pennies, or six, or nine, however many a small fist happens to hold. Sam rarely counts. "What are you going to do," he says, reaching into the cart through a mist of magic vapor, "not give it to them?"

According to one well-placed observer, Joey Varua, a nine-year-old connoisseur of almond bars, "Sam is the popularest guy in the neighborhood."

No argument there. Last year on July 2 the neighborhood women, many of them former members of Sam's clientele, greeted him on his corner with a big cake and some nice summer shirts and several boxes of cigars and stood with their kids and sang Happy Birthday to You.

Sam's eyes, which are chocolate, moistened. He examined the shirts, lit a cigar, composed himself, thanked the ladies. Then he passed out the cake to the kids.

"If you're an ice cream man and don't like kids you're in the wrong job," Sam said.

Columbus Men Found Innocent Of Drug Charge

Two Columbus men charged with trafficking in drugs were found innocent by a Pickaway County Jury Wednesday following a 2-hour deliberation.

They were Artis Lee Everman and Joseph Eugene Mercier. Both men denied the charge and stated they were only in the automobile where the drugs were found. The trial was held Tuesday and Wednesday in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court. Judge William Ammer presided. James Kinsley prosecuting attorney, represented the state.

Members of the jury were: Clara M. Dunn, James W. Dean, Darrel R. Conrad, Mearle E. Logan, Roger M. Little, Eleanor H. Reid, Martha Huston, Lola M. Schleicher, Ethel M. Carter, Mary Lou Dixon, Doris L. Gantz, Larry R. Plum, the foreman; Elenor K. Driesbach, alternate.

"No, I never had children of my own but they're all my children if you know what I mean. I know nearly all of them by name. I know their mothers and fathers. I've watched them grow up and go off to college and get married."

"They come back and visit me and bring their kids and say, 'Honey, this is Sam. I used to get ice cream from Sam when I was a little girl.' Yes, I know them all and I guess they all know me."

Is that so, kids? Is there anybody in the neighborhood who doesn't know Sam? The kids pondered the question a long moment.

"Conroy. Maybe Conroy doesn't know Sam," said Joey, polishing off his third almond bar.

"Yeah, maybe," said Phillip the fudge bar freak, "but Conroy's only been here a month. Conroy doesn't count."

To Sam Batchoff they all count, every sticky-fingered one of them, because they are his life.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Floyd and Anita Bryant Dropped By Agency

MIAMI (AP) — Singer Anita Bryant's talent agency is dropping her because of her battle against homosexuals.

"It's not in keeping with her career or my professional standing," Dick Shack of the Agency for the Performing Arts said Wednesday in reference to a soon-to-be published book by Miss Bryant about the Save Our Children campaign.

Miss Bryant, who does television commercials for Florida orange juice, helped organize the group that waged a successful campaign for repeal of a Dade County law that made it illegal to deny job and housing opportunities to homosexuals.

Shack is the husband of Dade County Commissioner Ruth Shack, who sponsored the law when it was put on the books last January.

Miss Bryant could not be reached for comment.

Heat Wave Blankets Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Much of America sweltered Wednesday and wondered whether the below-zero weather of last winter was really so bad after all as temperatures soared into the 90s and 100s. Not much relief is in sight.

In Washington, D.C., temperatures have been over 90 for the past 10 days and hit 100 for the first time in eight years. The coolest area in Alabama was 93 and it reached 102 in Birmingham and Centreville.

Elsewhere, it reached 100 in Atlanta, 105 in Las Vegas, 108 in Phoenix, Ariz.; 105 in Richmond, Va.; 100 in Omaha, Neb.; 103 in Des Moines, Iowa; and 100 in Dallas-Ft. Worth.

Early morning temperatures continued warm — mostly in the 70s and low 80s — over the eastern half of the nation, except near the Canadian border.

Seventeen tornadoes were reported Wednesday, nine in Wisconsin and six in Iowa. Twisters were also sighted in North Dakota and Michigan.

Thunderstorm winds estimated at 80 miles per hour did considerable damage at Fort Dodge, Iowa. Severe thunderstorms also caused some injuries at Conneaut in northeast Ohio and one injury at Denzer, Wis.

There were several reports of wind damage to trees and power lines across parts of Wisconsin, Iowa, Pennsylvania and Delaware. A severe thunderstorm also hit Fort Smith, Ark., doing damage to trees and windows.

Early morning temperatures across the nation at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 92 degrees in Phoenix and in Needles, Calif., to 41 degrees in Houlton, Maine, and in Butte, Mont.

Mahon To Retire From Congress

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Rep. George Mahon says he will retire at the close of his current term, ending a 44-year career in Congress and a 52-year career in public office.

The Texas Democrat, who has served longer in the U.S. House of Representatives than any of his colleagues, said Wednesday he will not seek reelection in 1978. He did not disclose his future plans.

"I promised myself long ago that I would not seek to serve in Congress after reaching age 80, a milestone I would pass prior to the conclusion of another two-year term," said the 77-year-old Mahon, the only congressman the 19th district of West Texas has ever had.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Laurelville Volunteer Fire Department met on June 28 at the fire house. There were five regular members and one new member, Maxine Bauman. New members are always welcome. Remember, any woman who lives in the districts covered by the local fire dept. is urged to join the auxiliary. This includes Perry Twp., Benton Twp., and Salt Creek Twp. in Hocking Co. besides the village of Laurelville. Plans for the Fireman's Old Time Festival were the main topic of discussion. Volunteer workers are needed for that week (July 26 through July 30). With the money the ladies make they will buy shelves for the firemen's tools in the fire house.

Mrs. Nelle Swackhammer entered Grant hospital on Tuesday where she will undergo surgery. Sammy Ebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ebert, is in Children's Hospital this week for surgery on his ears and a tonsillectomy.

Mrs. Ralph (Garnet Whisler) McCallister of near Amanda underwent major surgery at Lancaster-Fairfield County hospital last week.

David Linton of Adelphi was rushed to Ross Medical Center on Sun. following a heart attack. Mrs. Ella Williams of Calif. who recently underwent surgery is getting along well so reports her daughter, Mrs. James Eveland (Dena) who has just returned to her home in Circleville after visiting her parents, Bill and Ella.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weigerding of Phoenix, Arizona, Mrs. Marvene Weigerding and Mrs. Nelle Burst of Dayton were last Thursday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Motis Lindsey of Conrod Road. Mrs. Lindsey has not been well. Their Sunday visitors were Mrs. Helen Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lindsey and daughters Cheryl and Crystal, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hudgins, Mrs. Brenda Vandagriff and daughter, Carolyn Hartley and Vern Pritchard.

Members of the Laurelville Senior Citizens Club, don't forget, the regular meeting will be on Monday night, July 13th, at the Laurelville park shelter house. Carry in supper at 6 p.m. Any one in the community who cares to admit they are 55 or older is most welcome to come and bring any guests you care to. Many of the members have to have a younger person drive them to the meetings which is fine with us.

Mrs. Zola Flanigan entertained Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hupp, Terry, Pat and Melinda and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hupp and Aaron on Sunday evening to celebrate the July 4th birthday of her daughter, Geneva Hupp and the coming birthday of Mrs. Rita Hupp.

There are quite a few "Firecrackers" in our community who celebrate birthdays on July 4th. Mrs. Ruth Reynolds, Mrs. Rozella Schwalbaugh, Jay Garrett, Rick Unger, Jodi DeLong, and Don Chilcote to name a few. Also Mrs. Lana Dix who lives at Pickaway Manor, Circleville.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hartsaugh included Mrs. Alice Pontious of Amanda, LuAnne Pontious of Marietta, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith of Columbus and Kathleen Smith of Circleville.

Tim Fetherolf who is employed at Mack's Tool Shop in Sabina, O. spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Fetherolf.

Ralph and Loretta Hettinger of Adelphi were pleasantly surprised one morning last week when they got up, to find their pet beagle "Duke" who had been missing since last November had returned home and was waiting for them with a cheerful bark which said "look, I'm home, believe it or not". He found that during his absence he had acquired a playmate at the Hettinger home, a little Bull dog named "Major". At last reports, Duke and Major were getting acquainted and getting along fine.

According to the Hocking County Extension office, three important dates are coming up within the next two weeks. On July 8th. from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1 to 3 p.m. a pressure canner testing clinic will be held at the Youth Center, Conference Room at Logan, Ohio. There is no fee for this service.

A special 4-H Home Economics training day will be held for Hocking County 4-Hers, parents and advisors on Monday July 11 from 1 to 4 p.m., also in the Youth Center auditorium at Logan. There will be demonstrations on putting on facings, putting in a zipper, hemming, crocheting and knitting, and proper table setting. The training day will be conducted by Beverly Donahey, County Extension Agent, assisted by the 4-H Sunshine Fashion Gals and Leota Dalton. There is no registration fee or pre-registration required.

On July 12 the 1977 Southeastern Ohio dairy field day will be held at the Charles Lewis farm near Point Pleasant, W. Va. The program will start at 12:30 and continue until 2:45 p.m. State Extension dairy specialists, area and county Extension agents, will be on hand to present information and to answer dairymen's questions. The dairy field day is a public education program sponsored by the Ohio Cooperation Extension Service in the nine counties of the Jackson area.

Miss Christine DeLong, bride-elect of Dan Patrick, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower on June 25 at the home of Mrs. George Minshall. Mrs. Minshall and Mrs. Tom Davis were the hostesses.

Miss DeLong received many nice gifts from 22 ladies and Mrs. C. P. Brown, her grandmother from Orlando, Fla., who attended the shower.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were 12 ladies. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all who attended.

'Citizen-Rate' Postal Rule Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top postal official says an estimated one letter in five would qualify for a proposed new "citizen rate" on stamps, but admits he doesn't know how many people would "go to the trouble" of meeting the requirements.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar recommended the new rate on Wednesday at a meeting with the Postal Service board of governors. His proposal would retain the present 13-cent stamp for personal letters while raising the cost of a first-class business stamp three cents.

The board of governors meets Monday to vote on the plan. If it approves, the new rates would go to the Postal Rate Commission, which would have 10 months to act.

Under the law, if the commission fails to act within that time, the rates would take effect automatically.

At the board meeting on Wednesday, Bailar also said he hopes to begin ending Saturday mail deliveries and possibly close more small post offices within the next several months.

Strong congressional opposition exists to both moves, but Bailar said, "I think the public will support responsible cost cutting."

He noted a recent poll showing 79 per cent of the public supports five-day delivery if it would keep postage rates from climbing.

Before he decides whether to recommend a five-day delivery schedule, Bailar said, opposition of the postal employees' union leadership must be overcome. Complaints also have surfaced from publishers of weekly newspapers with advertising geared to Saturday delivery.

Postal officials said they expect business groups to challenge the dual-rate plan if it is approved by the two boards.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said the new rate would delay the eventual cost of higher postage to all users. The plan, the organization said, would amount to "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

But the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers lauded Bailar's proposal. The group said the mails "are the only feasible method of carrying personal correspondence" for many individuals.

The postmaster general listed these requirements for users of the proposed 13-cent rate: either the return or delivery address must be handwritten, both must include zip codes, both places must be in the United States and the envelope must meet size, shape and weight limits of mail handling machines.

Bailar estimated that the discounted rate would affect about 20 per cent of first-class mail.

He said he hoped holding personal letters to the 13-cents-an-ounce rate in effect for the last 18 months would lead to "public acceptance of our cost-cutting measures."

But he acknowledged that inflation could eat up all the savings and that if the books still don't balance, the 13-cent citizen-rate could go up.

Bridge Repairs Cause Cincy Jam

CINCINNATI (AP) — Interstate travelers are being warned away from Cincinnati because of massive traffic jams resulting from bridge repairs.

Motorists on interstates 71, 74 and 75 must fight traffic tie-ups and polluted air resulting from maintenance work on the Brent Spence Bridge spanning the Ohio River, according to local officials.

Cincinnati police are advising interstate travelers to reroute their trips to bypass the city until work on the interstate bridge is completed in about two months. Police reported motorists have been delayed up to two hours and I-75 has resembled a parking lot with cars backed up for miles in either direction.

"One lane of the bridge has been closed and it's causing a lot of traffic back-up," explained a Cincinnati traffic patrolman.

C.B. White, assistant district engineer in the Kentucky bureau of highways, said the bridge's center lane was closed Tuesday night so workers could begin laying a waterproof membrane over the pavement. He estimated it will take 60 days to cover both of the bridge's decks with the membrane, which will protect

Queen Receives Tillamook Cheese

TILLAMOOK, Ore. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain has sent a communique to the people of Tillamook, thanking them for a sample of their prized product — Tillamook cheddar cheese.

The chamber of commerce in this Oregon coastal community recently sent the queen a two-pound loaf of the cheese to help her celebrate her Silver Jubilee, her 25th year on the throne.

On Wednesday, chamber president Jerry Knudsen received a letter from Vice Admiral Sir Peter Ashmore, of her majesty's yacht, Britannia, which read:

"I am commanded by the queen to thank you very much for your generous consignment of Tillamook cheddar cheese. It reached Buckingham Palace in excellent condition and her majesty is delighted with this unusual addition to the fare of her table."

The vice admiral is master of the household at the palace.

pavement from salt water damage.

"I expect the closed lane might well cause some hot radiators and some hot tempers," said White, adding that "a lot of cooperation and courtesy by motorists will be necessary."

White said the work must be completed this summer, and that traffic studies showed July to be the least-congested summer month.

The past week's 90-plus degrees heat and humidity have sent Cincinnati's air pollution count well over the state-defined alert level of 200, said Mary Taylor, administrative assistant for the Cincinnati and Southwestern Ohio Air Pollution Control Division.

She added that traffic congestion caused by the bridge will only add to pollution.

"Any time there's congested traffic, there's going to be an effect on the air quality. Studies show most of the city's pollution is caused by automobiles, and the car idling in a traffic tie-up is the worst pollutant," she said.

Mrs. Zola Flanagan entertained Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hupp, Terry, Pat and Melinda and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hupp and Aaron on Sunday evening to celebrate the July 4th birthday of her daughter, Geneva Hupp and the coming birthday of Mrs. Rita Hupp.

There are quite a few "Firecrackers" in our community who celebrate birthdays on July 4th. Mrs. Ruth Reynolds, Mrs. Rozella Schwalbaugh, Jay Garrett, Rick Unger, Jodi DeLong, and Don Chilcote to name a few. Also Mrs. Lana Dix who lives at Pickaway Manor, Circleville.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hartsaugh included Mrs. Alice Pontious of Amanda, LuAnne Pontious of Marietta, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith of Columbus and Kathleen Smith of Circleville.

Tim Fetherolf who is employed at Mack's Tool Shop in Sabina, O. spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Fetherolf.

Ralph and Loretta Hettinger of Adelphi were pleasantly surprised one morning last week when they got up, to find their pet beagle "Duke" who had been missing since last November had returned home and was waiting for them with a cheerful bark which said "look, I'm home, believe it or not". He found that during his absence he had acquired a playmate at the Hettinger home, a little Bull dog named "Major". At last reports, Duke and Major were getting acquainted and getting along fine.

According to the Hocking County Extension office, three important dates are coming up within the next two weeks. On July 8th. from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1 to 3 p.m. a pressure canner testing clinic will be held at the Youth Center, Conference Room at Logan, Ohio. There is no fee for this service.

A special 4-H Home Economics training day will be held for Hocking County 4-Hers, parents and advisors on Monday July 11 from 1 to 4 p.m., also in the Youth Center auditorium at Logan. There will be demonstrations on putting on facings, putting in a zipper, hemming, crocheting and knitting, and proper table setting. The training day will be conducted by Beverly Donahay, County Extension Agent, assisted by the 4-H Sunshine Fashion Gals and Leota Dalton. There is no registration fee or pre-registration required.

On July 12 the 1977 Southeastern Ohio dairy field day will be held at the Charles Lewis farm near Point Pleasant, W. Va. The program will start at 12:30 and continue until 2:45 p.m. State Extension dairy specialists, area and county Extension agents, will be on hand to present information and to answer dairymen's questions. The dairy field day is a public education program sponsored by the Ohio Cooperation Extension Service in the nine counties of the Jackson area.

Miss Christine DeLong, bride-elect of Dan Patrick, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower on June 25 at the home of Mrs. George Minshall. Mrs. Minshall and Mrs. Tom Davis were the hostesses.

Miss DeLong received many nice gifts from 22 ladies and Mrs. C. P. Brown, her grandmother from Orlando, Fla., who attended the shower.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were 12 ladies. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all who attended.

'Citizen-Rate' Postal Rule Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top postal official says an estimated one letter in five would qualify for a proposed new "citizen rate" on stamps, but admits he doesn't know how many people would "go to the trouble" of meeting the requirements.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar recommended the new rate on Wednesday at a meeting with the Postal Service board of governors. His proposal would retain the present 13-cent stamp for personal letters while raising the cost of a first-class business stamp three cents.

The board of governors meets Monday to vote on the plan. If it approves, the new rates would go to the Postal Rate Commission, which would have 10 months to act.

Under the law, if the commission fails to act within that time, the rates would take effect automatically.

At the board meeting on Wednesday, Bailar also said he hopes to begin ending Saturday mail deliveries and possibly close more small post offices within the next several months.

Strong congressional opposition exists to both moves, but Bailar said, "I think the public will support responsible cost cutting."

He noted a recent poll showing 79 per cent of the public supports five-day delivery if it would keep postage rates from climbing.

Before he decides whether to recommend a five-day delivery schedule, Bailar said, opposition of the postal employees' union leadership must be overcome. Complaints also have surfaced from publishers of weekly newspapers with advertising geared to Saturday delivery.

Postal officials said they expect business groups to challenge the dual-rate plan if it is approved by the two boards.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said the new rate would delay the eventual cost of higher postage to all users. The plan, the organization said, would amount to "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

But the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers lauded Bailar's proposal. The group said the mails "are the only feasible method of carrying personal correspondence" for many individuals.

The postmaster general listed these requirements for users of the proposed 13-cent rate: either the return or delivery address must be handwritten, both must include zip codes, both places must be in the United States and the envelope must meet size, shape and weight limits of mail handling machines.

Bailar estimated that the discounted rate would affect about 20 per cent of first-class mail.

He said he hoped holding personal letters to the 13-cents-an-ounce rate in effect for the last 18 months would lead to "public acceptance of our cost-cutting measures."

But he acknowledged that inflation could eat up all the savings and that if the books still don't balance, the 13-cent citizen-rate could go up.

Bridge Repairs Cause Cincy Jam

CINCINNATI (AP) — Interstate travelers are being warned away from Cincinnati because of massive traffic jams resulting from bridge repairs.

Motorists on interstates 71, 74 and 75 must fight traffic tie-ups and polluted air resulting from maintenance work on the Brent Spence Bridge spanning the Ohio River, according to local officials.

Cincinnati police are advising interstate travelers to reroute their trips to bypass the city until work on the interstate bridge is completed in about two months. Police reported motorists have been delayed up to two hours and I-75 has resembled a parking lot with cars backed up for miles in either direction.

"One lane of the bridge has been closed and it's causing a lot of traffic back-up," explained a Cincinnati traffic patrolman.

C.B. White, assistant district engineer in the Kentucky bureau of highways, said the bridge's center lane was closed Tuesday night so workers could begin laying a waterproof membrane over the pavement. He estimated it will take 60 days to cover both of the bridge's decks with the membrane, which will protect pavement from salt water damage.

"I expect the closed lane might well cause some hot radiators and some hot tempers," said White, adding that "a lot of cooperation and courtesy by motorists will be necessary."

White said the work must be completed this summer, and that traffic studies showed July to be the least-congested summer month.

The past week's 90-plus degrees heat and humidity have sent Cincinnati's air pollution count well over the state-defined alert level of 200, said Mary Taylor, administrative assistant for the Cincinnati and Southwestern Ohio Air Pollution Control Division.

She added that traffic congestion caused by the bridge will only add to pollution.

"Any time there's congested traffic, there's going to be an effect on the air quality. Studies show most of the city's pollution is caused by automobiles, and the car idling in a traffic tie-up is the worst pollutant," she said.

Queen Receives Tillamook Cheese

TILLAMOOK, Ore. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain has sent a communique to the people of Tillamook, thanking them for a sample of their prized product — Tillamook cheddar cheese.

The chamber of commerce in this Oregon coastal community recently sent the queen a two-pound loaf of the cheese to help her celebrate her Silver Jubilee, her 25th year on the throne.

On Wednesday, chamber president Jerry Knudsen received a letter from Vice Admiral Sir Peter Ashmore, of her majesty's yacht, Britannia, which read:

"I am commanded by the queen to thank you very much for your generous consignment of Tillamook cheddar cheese. It reached Buckingham Palace in excellent condition and her majesty is delighted with this unusual addition to the fare of her table."

The vice admiral is master of the household at the palace.

Down By The River Side

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of short tours of Ohio Travel attractions prepared by Columbus Automobile Club for Circleville Herald.

Marietta sits at the nexus of the Ohio and Muskingum Rivers and was the site chosen by General Rufus Putnam and his fellows as the likely place to establish the settlement called for by the Northwest Ordinance of 1787. This first permanent settlement of the newly-created Northwest Territory, not yet 200 years old, has since attracted many a wayfarer and offers an adventure tour of no less than 32 historical, cultural and fun attractions.

Reaching back into the early settlement days, the original home of the Putnam family with many of its original furnishings is preserved within the walls of the Campus Martius Museum. The museum brings to life the fort and times of the early settlers.

Walking distance from Campus Martius is the Ohio River Museum, composed of three separate, elevated buildings, each dealing with a different facet of river life — fish and wildlife natural history; the age of the steamboat with 19 elaborate models; and man's control of Ohio's waterways with dams, ferryboats and bridges.

Moored adjacent to the Ohio River Museum is the W.P. Snyder, Jr., one of the last stern-wheelers to travel the Ohio River. Another stern-wheeler, and authentic replica, the Valley Gem, takes daily trips up the Muskingum River from the Washington Street Bridge through some of the most breathtaking river scenery in the country to Devol's Dam.

Some of the really fascinating historical sites in Marietta are the Ohio Company Land Office, the oldest existing building in the Northwest Territory, built in 1788; the First Congregational Church, which dates back to 1809, and the still magnificent, Lafayette Hotel, built in 1825. Then there is Mound Cemetery, which contains "Conus" an example of the prehistoric Moundbuilders art as well as 24 graves of Revolutionary War soldiers and officers.

No visit to Marietta would be complete without a jaunt across the bridge to Williamstown, West Virginia and a tour of the Fenton Glass Company and a visit to their gift shop. Then on the way back drive up to Lookout Point for a picnic and a fabulous view of the Muskingum River Valley and town.

Marietta is easily reached from Circleville, U.S. 22 north to U.S. 33; south on U.S. 33 to U.S. 50; south on U.S. 50 to S.R. 7; north on S.R. 7 to Marietta.

Ambassador Wounded In Paris

PARIS (AP) — A gunman shot the Mauritanian ambassador to France today, but officials at the American Hospital said he was out of danger. He was the third ambassador shot in Paris in the past two years.

The attempt on Ambassador Ahmed Ghanahalla, 36, apparently was the work of the Polisario Front, which is fighting a guerrilla war in northwest Africa for the independence of the former Spanish Sahara from Mauritania and Morocco.

A woman telephoned Agence France Presse, the French news agency, and said the Mohamed el Wali Sayed International Brigade was responsible for the attack. Mohamed el Wali Sayed was the secretary-general of the Polisario Front who was killed in an attack on Nouakchott, the capital of Mauritania, in June 1976.

Ghanahalla was shot this morning just after he had gotten into his chauffeur-driven car near his home in the fashionable 16th District. Witnesses said two men about 25 years old approached the parked car from behind and one of them fired six shots through the rear window.

The two attackers fled into adjacent streets and escaped.

Ghanahalla, who had represented his government in Paris for about 15 months, was taken to the emergency room at the American Hospital. An hour later a spokesman for the hospital said he was out of danger and conscious. Another source said he had been shot in the head and the legs.

The Spanish Sahara was partitioned and annexed by neighboring Morocco and Mauritania, after Spain relinquished the territory last year. Algeria, which adjoins a short stretch of the territory's northeast frontier, opposed the takeover and supports the Polisario Front.

Close Bridge For Repairs

POINT PLEASANT, W.Va. (AP)—The Memorial Bridge here, constructed five years ago to replace the fallen Silver Bridge, will be closed for at least several days for repairs, according to Highway Commissioner J. Speed Jones.

Jones said a routine inspection revealed a crack in a weld where two main beams are joined.

The bridge was constructed five years ago to replace the Silver Bridge, which collapsed in 1967, sending 46 persons to their deaths in the Ohio River below.

While the repairs are being made to the Memorial Bridge, traffic is being rerouted to the Pomery-Mason Bridge, about 16 miles north of here, state police said.

Six Sentenced By Common Pleas Judge

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer sentenced six men and set a trial date for another Wednesday.

James E. Jones, 18, Columbus, pleaded innocent to a charge of aggravated robbery. A jury trial is scheduled Aug. 2.

Johnny Ray Walker and Darnell Harris, both of Columbus, pleaded guilty to aggravated assault. They were accused of an assault and robbery that occurred Dec. 30. Both men were sentenced six months to five years in the Mansfield Reformatory.

Robert Eugene Clifton, 29, 7028 State Route 188, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and grand theft. He was accused of trespassing on a farm in the western part of the county and stealing farm wire Oct. 22, 1974. The judge sentenced him to six months to five years in Mansfield on each charge with the sentences to run concurrently.

Thomas Toles, Urbancrest, was accused of perjury and entered a plea of guilty. He was charged with making a false statement under oath during official court proceedings. Judge Ammer sentenced Toles one to 10 years in the Mansfield reformatory, suspended the sentence and placed him on probation for three years. Terms of the probation are that Toles seek counseling, not associate with certain individuals and stay out of Pickaway County.

David Lowery, 19, 219 Second Ave., pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and grand theft. He was sentenced six months to five years on each charge with the sentence suspended. He was placed on three years probation providing he make restitution and seek counseling. He was accused of breaking into a trailer on May 6 and stealing items of personal property.

Forrest C. Mumaw, 24, 227 Walnut St., pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property and disposing of the same. He was sentenced six months in the county jail with all except 15 days suspended and placed on probation for one year provided he make restitution. He was accused of receiving and disposing of a radio, tape deck, and speaker which he knew or had reasonable cause to know had been stolen. The offense occurred Nov. 5, 1976.

Welfare Department Plans Child Day Care Program

The Pickaway County Welfare Department will implement a program July 12 under Title 20 of the Social Security Act-Child Day Care Provisions, which will provide supplemental day care allocation for upgrading day care for disadvantaged children and provide training for welfare recipients.

The program will be a series of six three hour sessions on becoming a certified day care operator.

The program differs from the state program and licensing policy for day care centers in that this is for persons providing care for up to five Title 20 eligible children and does not require state licensing, state inspections or food service licenses, however it does require a certification from the Pickaway County Welfare Department.

There will be no charge for this program, which will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning July 12 at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church. The sessions will consist of the morning class held 9 a.m. noon and the afternoon class 1-3 p.m.

The training sessions will be conducted by Lewis Griffin of the Play and Learn Day Care Center of Columbus. He currently operates a center in his home on W. Fifth Ave.

The program will provide the basic information on the roll and responsibility of the caregiver; creating a home environment; early childhood development; planning and creating activities for young children; nutrition for young children; and first aid and health safety.

The cost of the care provided by the caregiver following certification is based entirely on the parents gross income, and is leveled toward the lower to middle income families, particularly families consisting of one parent.

Persons interested in obtaining more information should contact Marsha Dumm at the Pickaway County Welfare Office 474-7588.

The program differs from the state program and licensing policy for day care centers in that this is for persons providing care for up to five Title 20 eligible children and does not require state licensing, state inspections or food service licenses, however it does require a certification from the Pickaway County Welfare Department.

There will be no charge for this program, which will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning July 12 at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church. The sessions will consist of the morning class held 9 a.m. noon and the afternoon class 1-3 p.m.

The training sessions will be conducted by Lewis Griffin of the Play and Learn Day Care Center of Columbus. He currently operates a center in his home on W. Fifth Ave.

The program will provide the basic information on the roll and responsibility of the caregiver; creating a home environment; early childhood development; planning and creating activities for young children; nutrition for young children; and first aid and health safety.

The cost of the care provided by the caregiver following certification is based entirely on the parents gross income, and is leveled toward the lower to middle income families, particularly families consisting of one parent.

Persons interested in obtaining more information should contact Marsha Dumm at the Pickaway County Welfare Office 474-7588.

John Schroeder Leads British Open

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP) — "It's a good thing they made the pin placements so difficult," said Johnny Miller. "Otherwise someone would have shot in the 50s out there."

It was a strange start to the British Open Golf Championship — no wind on Turnberry's Ailsa links, easy driving conditions but cunningly placed holes on the slopes of glassy greens.

"Those are the hardest pin placements I have ever seen in one round," Miller said.

Thursday's second round began with a surprising leader in John Schroeder, the son of former Wimbledon tennis champion Ted Schroeder, who birdied the last two holes late Wednesday to post a four-under-par 66 on the 6,875-yard layout beside the Firth of Clyde.

Martin Foster, a relatively unknown Briton, was in second place with a 67. Three American stars — Jack Nicklaus, Tom Watson and Lee Trevino — were at 68. Miller was at 69, along with Severiano Ballesteros of Spain and Indian-born Gaylord Burrows, who lives in the United States.

The winds which can make Ailsa such a place of terror never came. And the rough beside the narrow fairways was so short it caused few worries.

Trevino kept hitting into the rough on his left.

"Honey," he told his wife Claudia who walked beside him, "it's the way to do it. You get a better lie in the rough than on the fairways."

"I hope it blows like hell for the rest of the tournament," Trevino said.

But it won't according to the weather experts. They predicted the same freakish calm through Saturday.

It is not what the locals are used to and not what the British Professional Golfers Association expected when they assigned the Open to Turnberry for the first time in the 117-year history of the tournament.

Schroeder's late charge came out of the blue, when most of the 17,600 spectators had gone home — and even some of the course marshals too.

Schroeder has won $53,000 this year and is 36th in the U.S. tour rankings.

He came to the 17th hole two under par and one stroke behind Foster. His second shot on the 17th landed in a bunker, but he blasted out to four feet from the pin and sank the putt.

Legion '9' Defeats WCH, 10-6

Circleville Hall-Adkins Legion Post 134 defeated Washington C. H. 10-6 Wednesday on the losers' diamond.

Tony Crist was the winning pitcher. After giving up six runs on seven hits in the first two innings, he settled down and pitched one-hit ball the rest of the game. He fanned eight and walked five.

Jerry Scanlan led the local Legion hitting, hammering out a single, double and homerun. Randy Pontius had a single and double. Crist aided his own cause with a double and a triple. Butch McFarland hit a triple and John Mettler a single, double and triple.

Saturday the Hall Adkins post will host Chillicothe Post 62 in a doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m. and Sunday will host Portsmouth. The games will be played at Logan Elm High School.

Pulford Takes

Black Hawk Reins

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Pulford, new general manager/coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, says his first priority in his new job will be to build a competitive team based on a solid defense.

"I want a very competitive team. The main thing to winning is a good defense ...," Pulford said Wednesday after being named to the dual post with the National Hockey League team. "The one thing I would hope to do is get our goals-against average down."

Pulford, 41, comes to Chicago after five seasons as coach of the Los Angeles Kings. He led the Kings into the NHL playoffs the past four seasons and compiled a 178-150-68 record during his five-year tenure. However, he reportedly was unhappy with management's handling of day-to-day operations.

Elks Set Trap Shoot

The Circleville Lodge No. 77 of B.P.O.E. will sponsor a trap shoot at the Elks Gun Range, located at the rear of the Circleville Mobile Homes' Sales Lot on U.S. Route 23 North.

The shoot is scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. on July 17. Elks and their guests are invited.

Yankees Stalling, Cleveland Believes

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cleveland Indians were unhappy Wednesday when the New York Yankees called off their scheduled game after only a brief and light rain shower had fallen.

The sky was cloudy and the forecast warned of a "threat" of more rain but most of the Indians felt that the weather was not the real reason for postponing the game until September

Nets Seek New Site In Jersey

CARLE PLACE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets, who began operations 10 years ago as the New Jersey Americans, apparently now are trying to become the New Jersey Nets.

Roy Boe, president of the Nets, said Wednesday he had entered into a letter of intent with the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority to move the National Basketball Association team to a 20,000-seat arena proposed for the Meadowlands Sports Complex in East Rutherford, N.J.

"It is hoped that we will be able to play at least one-half of the 1978-79 season in the new arena," Boe said. "In the interim, we plan to play our games at the new Rutgers University arena in New Brunswick."

Meanwhile, the Nets filed suit Wednesday at U.S. District Court in Newark, N.J., in an attempt to stop the New York Knicks from blocking their proposed shift. Judge Vincent Biunno issued a temporary order preventing the Knicks from filing suit in any other court to block the Nets' move.

The Knicks claim that territorial rights agreed upon when the Nets came into the NBA from the American Basketball Association last year require their permission before the Nets can make a move. But Boe said, "We have received assurances from our counsel that we are legally entitled to move to New Jersey and that protestations by the New York Knicks to the contrary are wholly without merit."

Negotiations broke down Wednesday between the Nets and officials of suburban Nassau County, N.Y., for a renewal of the team's lease on the Nassau Coliseum in Uniondale. The lease expires in September.

The Nets, ABA champions in 1974 and 1976, ranked next-to-last in NBA attendance last season with an average of 6,935 per game after selling star Julius Erving to Philadelphia.

Heavyweight Ken Norton earned 10 varsity letters in high school in Jacksonville, Ill. He competed in baseball, football, track and basketball. Boxing came later.

Elks Set Trap Shoot

The Circleville Lodge No. 77 of B.P.O.E. will sponsor a trap shoot at the Elks Gun Range, located at the rear of the Circleville Mobile Homes' Sales Lot on U.S. Route 23 North.

The shoot is scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. on July 17. Elks and their guests are invited.

Reds Outlast Braves, 15-13

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The climate at Atlanta Stadium was humid, but it was hotter for the pitchers than it was for the hitters. And that's nothing new.

"It's pitiful," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson, talking about one of the best hitting parks in the major leagues. "It's strictly a launching pad and nothing else. It's tough on the pitching, tough on the manager and tough on everybody."

Line drives ricocheted around Atlanta Stadium with their accustomed ferocity Wednesday night. And after it stopped raining baseballs, the Reds had a football-sized 15-13 decision over the Atlanta Braves.

In other National League games, the Pittsburgh Pirates outscored the St. Louis Cardinals 11-8; the Philadelphia Phillies turned back the New York Mets 5-3; the Chicago Cubs defeated the Montreal Expos 8-6; the Houston Astros nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1 in 14 innings and the San Diego Padres beat the San Francisco Giants 7-5 in 12.

George Foster broke a tie with a two-run single in the eighth inning and Dave Concepcion followed with a grand slam home run to secure Cincinnati's victory.

Pete Rose had four hits, including a homer, and drove in four runs as the Reds assaulted six Atlanta pitchers for 15 hits. Johnny Bench and Ken Griffey also homered, giving the Reds 10 home runs in the three-game series.

Pirates 11, Cardinals 8
Fernando Gonzalez' three-run homer off Al Hrabosky in the seventh led Pittsburgh over St. Louis. Gonzalez' homer came after the Cardinals had taken an 8-6 lead with seven runs in their half of the inning. The St. Louis burst was capped by Ted Simmons' three-run homer off Pittsburgh relief star Rich Gossage.

Phillies 5, Mets 3
Jerry Martin's bases-loaded single and a sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Tim McCarver produced three sixth-inning runs, enabling Philadelphia to beat New York.

Philadelphia trailed 3-1 New York's Jon Matlack, 3-10, starting the sixth. Then they rallied to beat Matlack for the ninth straight time since he last

Cubs 8, Expos 6
Greg Gross socked his first major league homer, a three-run shot in the sixth inning, to lift Chicago over Montreal. The homer came off Don Stanhouse, 5-8, whose grand-slam homer in the second had given the Expos a 5-1 lead.

Astros 2, Dodgers 1
Jose Cruz' seventh home run of the season, in the 14th inning, led Houston over Los Angeles. Cruz connected off Dodger reliever Mike Garman, 4-1, breaking up the pitching duel that featured 24 strikeouts.

Both Rick Rhoden of the Dodgers and J.R. Richard of the Astros pitched 10 strong innings. Bo McLaughlin, 2-3, worked the final two innings for Houston, and got the victory.

Padres 7, Giants 5
San Diego turned three San Francisco errors into three unearned runs in the 12th inning, capping the game-winning rally with Dave Kingman's run-scoring single.

Dan Spillner, 4-0, was the winner in relief as the Giants equaled their longest losing streak in San Francisco history, eight in a row.

British Crowd Loves Trevino

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP) — Flying divots from the British Open: Jack Nicklaus and Tom Watson awe the golf-mad Scots but Lee Trevino tickles their funnybones. Thus, Super Mex has become the Pied Piper of this ancient championship beside the Irish Sea.

Wherever the garrulous, wisecracking Mexican-American goes, a vast stream of admirers are at his heels. He gives them a sideshow as well as some excellent golf shots for their three pounds — $5.25 — admission ticket.

From locker to practice tee through all 18 holes, he never stops talking. He chatters away in sporadic English and Spanish. Few get the full impact of his chatter. Everybody laughs. He has a straight man in his Scottish caddie, Willie Aichison.

"On the seventh hole," Lee said, "I was getting ready to line up my putt when Willie dropped the flag. It missed my ear by half an inch. I said, 'I know, Willie, you're betting on Jack Nicklaus.' At the 13th hole, I marked my ball and then couldn't find the marker coin. After several minutes, I found it. Willie was standing on it."

Somebody asked Trevino if he thought his delayed arrival here would hurt his chances of winning the tournament.

"Naw," snapped the one-time Texas driving range operator. "My golf clubs don't know where they are. They don't know what day it is. It makes no difference."

"It's true I want to win as many majors as possible," Jack said, "but not the British as such. As for goals, I would like to win five U.S. Opens and six PGAs."

Willie Anderson, Bob Jones and Ben Hogan share the U.S. Open record with four each. Walter Hagen won five PGAs.

Severiano Ballesteros, the sensational 20-year-old Spaniard, is a soldier in the Air Force who says he gets paid $3.50 a month for doing nothing. Since the beginning of summer he has been on leave, playing golf throughout Europe.

Asked how he liked Spanish military life, the pleasant, dark-haired Latin smiled broadly and replied: "Bueno."

Brett, Royals Defeat Brewers, 8-7

By TOM CANAVAN
AP Sports Writer

After lying in a hospital bed for four days, George Brett proved he could still hit snowballs on Christmas Day.

Wednesday morning, Brett checked out of a hospital after a four-day stay for treatment of an infected left elbow. Wednesday night, he pinch-hit a single in the bottom of the ninth to drive in Frank White with the winning run in the Royals 8-7 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

"I was pretty weak, but when you've been on your back for four days I guess you are," said last year's American League batting champion.

Frank White led off the Royals ninth with a single and stole second. Then Brett delivered his game-winning hit off Bill Castro, 7-5.

Perhaps the least surprised person was Royals Manager Whitey Herzog. "I can't say I felt calm about things," he said, "But I knew, too, that George Brett could hit snowballs on Christmas Day."

In other American League action, Chicago edged Seattle 4-2, Boston whipped Toronto 9-5, Texas nipped Oakland 4-3, Minnesota beat California 4-3, Baltimore blanked Detroit 2-0, and the Cleveland-New York game was postponed by inclement weather.

The Brewers ripped Royals starter Andy Hassler for three runs in the first on Cecil Cooper's RBI double and Sixto Lezcano's two-run single. The Royals battled back on sacrifice flies by Tom Poquette in the third and Darrell Porter in the fourth, but the Brewers added a run in the fifth and three in the sixth for a 7-2 lead.

Orioles 2, Tigers 0
Mike Flanagan fired a six hitter and Ken Singleton slugged his 10th home run of the season as Baltimore won its seventh consecutive game and moved within one-half game of the first-place New York Yankees in the AL East.

Flanagan, who at one point this season was 1-7, did not walk a batter and struck out three in recording his third consecutive complete-game triumph and raising his record to 5-8.

Red Sox 9, Blue Jays 5
Carl Yastrzemski and Fred Lynn had four hits apiece in a 17-hit Boston attack as the Red Sox beat Toronto for the fourth time in five outings this season.

The Red Sox broke a 5-5 tie in the seventh and added three runs in the eighth to give reliever Bill Campbell, 7-5, his second victory over Toronto in three nights.

Twins 4, Angels 3
Lyman Bostock's leadoff home run in the eighth inning broke a 3-3 tie and gave relief pitcher Tom Johnson his 10th victory of the season.

Butch Wynegar also homered for the Twins, while Tony Solaita added his sixth home run of the season for California.

Rangers 4, A's 3
Juan Beniquez stole home in the sixth inning and blasted a solo homer in the seventh as the Rangers snapped a three-game losing streak.

White Sox 4, Mariners 2
Oscar Gamble blasted a pair of solo home runs and Alan Bannister delivered a two-run single, leading Chicago to its seventh straight victory and sending the Mariners to their fourth straight loss.

Wilbur Wood, 3-2, scattered seven hits in his second complete game this week. He beat Minnesota 3-0 on Sunday.

Familiar Names In Golf Clash
KINGS MILL, Ohio (AP) — The familiar names of Nicklaus and Weiskopf will be among a field of 225 entered in next week's 71st Ohio Amateur Championships at the Jack Nicklaus Golf Center.

Jack Nicklaus Jr., 15, and Danny Weiskopf, 18, will attempt to carry on family tradition while their famous fathers compete in the British Open at Turnberry, Scotland.

Nicklaus plays out of Muirfield Village in Dublin, Ohio while Weiskopf, who just completed his freshman year at Stanford University, plays out of Canterbury Country Club in Cleveland.

Jock MacVicar, golf correspondent for the Scottish Daily Express, categorically names Tom Watson as certain winner of this year's Open, saying: "I think it is the eyes — clear and unwavering — that do it. I have never come into contact with a more confident and self-assured man in a game that breeds uncertainty and self-doubt."

Hey, Jock, if the eyes have it, how about putting a few pounds down for us on Liz Taylor.

If Nicklaus should win here, he would complete a third circle of grand slams — victories in the four major pro events, the Masters, British and U.S. opens and PGA — a phenomenal record. He has won the Masters five times, the PGA four times, the U.S. Open three times and the British Open twice.

RYAN TIES KOUFAX'S RECORD — California Angels pitcher Nolan Ryan throws one of his patented fast balls in striking out Oakland's Marty Perez in Anaheim, Calif., on his way to tying Sandy Koufax's major league strikeout record. Ryan struck out eleven players during the game, to tie Koufax's record of 97 career games with ten or more strikeouts per game.

Demos Restore 3 Vetoeed Budget Items

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Democrats have used their veto-proof majority to restore all three vetoed items in Ohio's $13 billion, two-year general appropriations bill.

Strict party line votes on Wednesday sent the same items to the Democratic Senate which was expected to add its override to the vetoes by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes, possibly today.

In other action Wednesday, the House debated at length but then gave 87-9 approval to a far-reaching bill that permits the state to license family and group homes for the mentally retarded in residential neighborhoods, local zoning laws notwithstanding. It returns to the Senate because of amendments.

Also approved in the lower chamber (85-10) was a comprehensive bill sponsors say could help Ohio avoid disastrous fires such as the tragic blaze that snuffed out 164 lives in a northern Kentucky night club, across the Ohio River from Cincinnati May 28.

Rep. Larry H. Christman, D-67 Englewood, sponsored the measure which establishes a nine-member state fire commission, requires the adoption of a statewide fire safety code and certification of fire safety inspectors, along with setting 36 hours as minimum training for volunteer firemen. Paid firemen must have 200 hours, under present law, but volunteers have only random training programs available.

Among many other provisions of the legislation, which has passed the House the last two sessions only to die in the Senate, are spelled out qualifications for the state fire marshal, an oft times political appointee in administrations of both political parties, Christman told the House. "This takes the office out of politics," he said.

Across the capitol, the Senate concurred 32-0 in House amendments to a major bill allowing pharmacists to substitute less expensive drugs of the same generic equivalence as those listed on doctors' prescriptions. Doctors would have to consent beforehand.

Estimates of possible savings to Ohioans, particularly the elderly who buy 60 per cent of the prescription drugs sold in the state, have ranged as high as $40 million to $50 million a year.

In another development, as state lawmakers continue to plod toward an announced summer adjournment date of July 29, a House member said he planned to try again today for House approval of his bill subsidizing winter heating bills of the elderly and disabled.

Rep. Dennis E. Eckart, D-18 Euclid,

Blaze At Prison Kills 5 Inmates

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Fire swept through a three-story cellblock at the federal medium security prison here early today, killing five persons and injuring about 66.

Authorities said they believed the five dead were prisoners.

Danbury police Sgt. Robert Lovell said an investigation by fire department and prison officials indicated that the fire was deliberately set, but he would not elaborate. Associate Warden Billy Davis refused to comment on the cause.

However, inmates who lived in the burned-out dormitory said the blaze was caused by an electrical problem in a dormitory washroom. Several inmates said they were trapped inside the burning, smoking room for up to 30 minutes because the doors were locked.

"We had to feel for the bodies, that's how thick the smoke was," said inmate Darnell Kinnard of Washington, D.C.

Hospital authorities said the dead were presumed to be inmates because of the clothing they were wearing. Positive identification of the victims was awaiting fingerprint comparisons.

The fire, which broke out about 1:30 a.m. and was brought under control at 2:50 a.m., it came less than two weeks after a fire in the Maury County Jail in Nashville, Tenn. Cyanide-laced smoke from the plastic padding used in one of the cells killed 42 persons in that blaze. A 16-year-old runaway has been charged with arson.

The Danbury prison can accommodate 750 prisoners. There were about 80 inmates in the cellblock where the fire broke out.

Lovell said when the first fire trucks arrived they had trouble reaching the fire because they couldn't get through the gates.

"When we first got there at least 18 people were trapped. We needed a hook and ladder to rescue them. We could hearing people screaming to get out," Lovell said.

He said the gates were finally opened when Danbury fire department Capt. Anthony Ligatto threatened to drive a fire truck through the locked gate.

"The wait seemed like three hours," Lovell said, "although it couldn't have been more than five minutes."

Inmates in a prison courtyard yelled to reporters viewing the damage that the guards did not help open doors and rescue prisoners.

"If the inmates had stood around and watched, there would have been 72 dead men," prisoner Richard Evans said.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — With temperatures climbing toward record levels, you'd better take steps to protect yourself, health authorities warn.

Lafayette recorded a high temperature of 99 degrees Wednesday. South Bend's 96 was a record. A 96 in Fort Wayne tied the record.

"Persons with lung problems should not push themselves, activity wise, in the outdoors," said Dr. Robert Godley, chief medical resident at the Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis. "For persons who don't have underlying problems but doing outdoor activities, they should make sure they drink plenty of fluids. Persons in such occupations as construction laborers should have salt tablets available."

The National Weather Service, which sees no letup in the high heat and humidity until the weekend, suggested persons take it easy, eat and dress lightly, drink plenty of water and try to avoid the sun.

whose measure was sidetracked earlier this week when Republicans voted against an emergency clause they had previously supported, said he will get it approved as a nonemergency, if necessary, and try to resolve the problem of the bill's effective date after it reaches the Senate.

Eckart said as many as one million Ohioans might qualify for the 25 per cent utility bill discounts his measure would provide during the heating season from Nov. 1 through March 31.

Items vetoed by Rhodes in the general appropriations bill, which finances state operations in the two-year span ending June 30, 1979, included two that set aside about $1 million to help implement a still pending collective bargaining bill.

Rhodes vetoed a similar bill which would have established bargaining procedures for Ohio's 510,000 public employees during the last legislature. In his veto message this time, he said it was wrong for the legislature to finance a bill which still has not been passed.

In both vetoes involving collective bargaining, the governor expressed concern that the legislation could impose financial obligations which could devastate Ohio's local governments.

The third item in the latest vetoes was on budget bill language that requires the natural resources department to obtain funds to operate its various divisions from the Democrat-dominated state controlling board.

During brief debate over the governor's vetoes, Republicans and Democrats reiterated arguments that preceded approval of the budget in that chamber June 23.

Republicans said generally that the majority party had invaded the authority of the executive branch while Democrats said they have, as one put it, "a clear prerogative" to approve appropriations of the state under the Ohio Constitution.

Bombing Admitted By Guerrilla Group

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A Palestinian guerrilla group says the pipe bomb in the Petah Tiqva market that killed a woman and wounded 20 other persons was its answer to Prime Minister Menahem Begin's territorial policy.

The radical Popular Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine announced in Beirut that one of its guerrillas planted the bomb that exploded Wednesday in response to the new prime minister's "policy of creating new settlements in Palestine."

Begin before he became prime minister supported the establishment of Jewish settlements in the West Bank territory on which the guerrillas want to establish a Palestinian state. Israel took the territory from Jordan in the 1967 war, and Begin contends it is part of historical Israel.

Petah Tiqva, a city of 105,000, is five miles from the border of the occupied territory, and thousands of West Bank Arabs pass through it daily on their way to and from work in Israel. It was the scene of two Arab bombings last November in which five persons were injured.

Following the bombing Wednesday, police warned the people to be on the lookout for "suspicious parcels and people, especially in crowded public places."

The bombing was the worst in Israel since May 1976, when a booby-trapped motor scooter blew up in Jerusalem, killing one person and injuring 29. Hospital officials said a 56-year-old woman died Wednesday night while undergoing surgery, and four other wounded persons were reported in serious condition.

The police rounded up about 100 Arabs for questioning. The Popular Democratic Front said one of its guerrillas eluded Israeli security measures to plant a time bomb. It added that it "warns the Zionists against harming the arrested Arabs and assures our people in Palestine that we are always capable of helping them."

Pictures' vice president for

TV movies and miniseries, overseeing 14 projects ranging from Carroll O'Connor's remake of "The Last Hurrah" to Frank Sinatra's made-for-NBC "Contract on Cherry Street."

And while times are changing and more women are getting a shot at making shows for television, she says, the thought of it still can jar the egos of those who think of producing as for men only.

"A producer I worked with recently said, 'Renee, I love you, I've known you 100 years, but please don't take a credit on this show because it will diminish me,'" she said.

"It took me a back because I never thought of anything in that light and I guess it's because I started in the business of producing long before anybody told me I shouldn't be doing it."

Miss Valente's career as a producer began in the early 1960s, in her native New York, when she went from answering telephones to making dramas at Talent Associates, the production company of David Susskind.

A short, pleasant and frank woman, she joined Columbia's TV division as a producer in 1964, and moved here in 1968 as its head of casting.

Miss V., married to a producer and mother of a teen-ager, says she found no male resistance to her as producer of "Hawk" way back when because the show was made in New York, not Hollywood.

And New York, she says, is where in TV's early days women had the most opportunity to produce live and taped dramas simply because most of the menfolk had moved here to do TV films and series.

"But when tape and live TV went out, then those of us left in TV had no place to turn," she said.

Miss Valente, who thinks TV producing here has been a man's game because men have dominated the business here from the start, nonetheless thinks the domination is slowly diminishing.

"More and more (men) are beginning to find that women do have ability, that we aren't as weak and emotional as we have the image of being," she said. She was asked the big why of the change.

"Well, I've not been a Gloria Steinem fan, ever," she said, referring to a leader in the women's rights movement.

"But I find now I have to be terribly grateful to her for bringing to the fore and making an awareness which was not there before."

Bob Wren joins Hall of Fame

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University's Bob Wren, upon learning of his selection to the American Association of College Baseball Coaches' Hall of Fame, said, "You don't have a circus without the animals."

Wren, whose teams won 464 games while losing 160, sent 54 of his players into the professional game.

Mike Schmidt and Terry Harmon of the Philadelphia Phillies, Tom Murphy of the Boston Red Sox, Steve Swisher of the Chicago Cubs and Rich McKinney of the Oakland Athletics are some of the current big leaguers who learned under Wren.

"This is a great honor, but, hopefully without sounding corny, I have to say I've had an awful lot of help. I had good players and some excellent assistant coaches."

Wren left Athens in 1972 to teach and manage in the minor league system of the Phillies.

That was a time when Ohio University was undergoing financial problems and "minor" sports budgets were being slashed as women's athletics moved into the program.

For Wren, his sport never could be accepted as minor after 27 years on the job at his alma mater. So, at age 51, he took the assignment in professional baseball.

"They had their ideas of doing things and I had mine. It just didn't work out," said Wren of his brief tenure with the National League team.

Wren said he turned down a similar assignment with the Atlanta Braves to return to the Ohio University campus as assistant director of admissions.

Deny Much Work At Lab Dangerous

MIAMISBURG, Ohio (AP) — Only a small amount of the work now being done at Mound Laboratory in this Dayton suburb concerns plutonium 238, an official said Wednesday.

Howard Charbeneau, communication manager for the laboratory, said most of the plutonium operations have been transferred to the Savannah River atomic energy facility near Aiken, S.C. He said the plutonium operation "now amounts to 3 or 4 per cent of what we do here."

Charbeneau was responding to a complaint by a Texas congressman that the laboratory continues to operate six years after being cited for safety hazards by the General Accounting Office.

Charbeneau said the facility here does not meet "criteria for tornadoes or earthquakes" which were cited by Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex.

"But these are cataclysmic events and they are in the remote safety consideration area," he said.

The GAO cited a staff study of the old Atomic Energy Commission which indicated an accident at the laboratory could have serious consequences in the densely populated area.

AEC, predecessor to the Energy Research and Development Administration, added it had decided to relocate the plutonium operations from the laboratory to the Savannah River facility.

"We have been transferring various plutonium operations to Savannah River over a period of time," Charbeneau said. "For example, we sent all the encapsulation of plutonium 238 for the space program to Savannah River."

"We figure to be out of here in about two years."

"The only thing we have left is a small heat source which we produce in very small numbers. It is used as a power source for a battery for a military weapon." He would not elaborate, saying the weapon is classified.

"It powers a thermoelectric battery similar to those that went on some space ships," Charbeneau added.

He said most of the laboratory's work is in energy research and weapons.

600 Fingerlings

Put In Reservoir

LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) — An additional 600 fingerling muskie recently were stocked in Clear Fork Reservoir by the wildlife division of the Department of Natural Resources.

The hatchery-raised fish are used because natural reproduction of the tough fighter does not occur in the lake.

The fingerlings originated from Clear Fork, as the eggs were stripped and fertilized from muskie trapped by the division.

New Access Area

Open For Sports

FINDLAY, Ohio — The North Turkeyfoot access area of Mary Jane Thurston State Park has been opened to public hunting and fishing, the Department of Natural Resources has announced.

District 2 supervisor G.J. Palmer said the 486-acre parcel, which borders the Maumee River in Henry County near Grand Rapids, has tremendous potential for wildlife activities with an abundant population of small game such as rabbit and squirrel.

"This area should also be a prime waterfowl area, Palmer added.

"A producer I worked with recently said, 'Renee, I love you, I've known you 100 years, but please don't take a credit on this show because it will diminish me,'" she said.

"It took me a back because I never thought of anything in that light and I guess it's because I started in the business of producing long before anybody told me I shouldn't be doing it."

Miss Valente's career as a producer began in the early 1960s, in her native New York, when she went from answering telephones to making dramas at Talent Associates, the production company of David Susskind.

A short, pleasant and frank woman, she joined Columbia's TV division as a producer in 1964, and moved here in 1968 as its head of casting.

Miss V., married to a producer and mother of a teen-ager, says she found no male resistance to her as producer of "Hawk" way back when because the show was made in New York, not Hollywood.

And New York, she says, is where in TV's early days women had the most opportunity to produce live and taped dramas simply because most of the menfolk had moved here to do TV films and series.

"But when tape and live TV went out, then those of us left in TV had no place to turn," she said.

Miss Valente, who thinks TV producing here has been a man's game because men have dominated the business here from the start, nonetheless thinks the domination is slowly diminishing.

"More and more (men) are beginning to find that women do have ability, that we aren't as weak and emotional as we have the image of being," she said. She was asked the big why of the change.

"Well, I've not been a Gloria Steinem fan, ever," she said, referring to a leader in the women's rights movement.

"But I find now I have to be terribly grateful to her for bringing to the fore and making an awareness which was not there before."

Bob Wren Joins Hall Of Fame

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University's Bob Wren, upon learning of his selection to the American Association of College Baseball Coaches' Hall of Fame, said, "You don't have a circus without the animals."

Wren, whose teams won 464 games while losing 160, sent 54 of his players into the professional game.

Mike Schmidt and Terry Harmon of the Philadelphia Phillies, Tom Murphy of the Boston Red Sox, Steve Swisher of the Chicago Cubs and Rich McKinney of the Oakland Athletics are some of the current big leaguers who learned under Wren.

"This is a great honor, but, hopefully without sounding corny, I have to say I've had an awful lot of help. I had good players and some excellent assistant coaches."

Wren left Athens in 1972 to teach and manage in the minor league system of the Phillies.

That was a time when Ohio University was undergoing financial problems and "minor" sports budgets were being slashed as women's athletics moved into the program.

For Wren, his sport never could be accepted as minor after 27 years on the job at his alma mater. So, at age 51, he took the assignment in professional baseball.

"They had their ideas of doing things and I had mine. It just didn't work out," said Wren of his brief tenure with the National League team.

Wren said he turned down a similar assignment with the Atlanta Braves to return to the Ohio University campus as assistant director of admissions.

Deny Much Work At Lab Dangerous

MIAMISBURG, Ohio (AP) — Only a small amount of the work now being done at Mound Laboratory in this Dayton suburb concerns plutonium 238, an official said Wednesday.

Howard Charbeneau, communication manager for the laboratory, said most of the plutonium operations have been transferred to the Savannah River atomic energy facility near Aiken, S.C. He said the plutonium operation "now amounts to 3 or 4 per cent of what we do here."

Charbeneau was responding to a complaint by a Texas congressman that the laboratory continues to operate six years after being cited for safety hazards by the General Accounting Office.

Charbeneau said the facility here does not meet "criteria for tornadoes or earthquakes" which were cited by Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex.

"But these are cataclysmic events and they are in the remote safety consideration area," he said.

The GAO cited a staff study of the old Atomic Energy Commission which indicated an accident at the laboratory

600 FingerlingsPut In Reservoir

LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) — An additional 600 fingerling muskie recently were stocked in Clear Fork Reservoir by the wildlife division of the Department of Natural Resources.

The hatchery-raised fish are used because natural reproduction of the tough fighter does not occur in the lake.

The fingerlings originated from Clear Fork, as the eggs were stripped and fertilized from muskie trapped by the division.

New Access Area Open For Sports

FINDLAY, Ohio — The North Turkeyfoot access area of Mary Jane Thurston State Park has been opened to public hunting and fishing, the Department of Natural Resources has announced.

District 2 supervisor G.J. Palmer said the 486 acre parcel, which borders the Maumee River in Henry County near Grand Rapids, has tremendous potential for wildlife activities with an abundant population of small game such as rabbit and squirrel.

"This area should also be a prime waterfowl area, Palmer added.

Bengals End Tax Dispute; Pay $27,779

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals will end a two-year dispute by paying the city of Cincinnati $27,779 plus interest in taxes collected in 1975 and 1976 on Riverfront Stadium seats that were sold but never occupied.

Bengals General Manager Mike Brown said, "The city has agreed not to charge the Bengals a surcharge on the press admission and the other free admissions we have to the games," while the Bengals will pay the city the tax money by Sept. 12.

The Bengals have maintained that the funds belonged to the customers since the seats weren't used, but that it was impossible to tell who the customers were, so the money might belong to the club or state instead of the city.

The city maintained that the tax was on tickets sold, not seats occupied. The Bengals put the money in escrow, where it has collected interest.

Cincinnati City Council threatened the Bengals with a lawsuit in June, and charged that the funds were being withheld as a bargaining ploy in tenant-landlord negotiations between the club and the city.

Brown termed the settlement "fair," but added he still is not sure the disputed $27,779 belongs to the city.

"I can't tell you for sure if it's a valid argument. On balance we can live with the deal we made. You've got to make this kind of bargain now and again. There are constant difficulties. They have to be settled through negotiations."

The city has billed the club for surcharges on free admissions until now, although the Bengals never paid them. Two years ago the city stopped billing the Cincinnati Reds for free admission, which the baseball club never paid surcharges on either.

Argentinian Petroleum

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina will be self-sufficient in petroleum by 1980, and currently provides 90 per cent of its domestic demand, says engineer Mateo Oscar Juan, exploitation manager for the state-owned YPF petroleum company.

YPF plans for 1977 call for more than doubling the number of exploratory wells drilled in 1976 to enable Argentina to become self-sufficient, Juan said. Imported petroleum costs five times more than petroleum produced in Argentina.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): There's a tendency now to let things slide. But without careful thinking and planning, complexities could arise to plague you later. Face up to future requirements.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A better day than you may anticipate. Especially favored: personal relationships, creative pursuits, travel plans.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Your imagination highly stimulated and, while you may not capitalize on new ideas immediately, they should be happily productive in the future.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Once you have made up your mind, back up decisions with vigorous action. You may run into some opposition, but you can win with reason and logic.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): There is evidence that competition is on the move. Don't be left at the post. Good judgment and prompt action needed.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A good day for dealing with superiors, with persons in authority generally. Any or all should be receptive to your ideas.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You may feel somewhat stymied in your plans, but skies are clearing for faster advancement toward desired goals. Have patience!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Quiet steps may be the most important ones now, but they must be steady, knowing ones, directed only toward most worthwhile objectives. Stress your innate foresight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A day in which to tie up loose ends and make any required improvements. Don't complicate situations by acting hastily or being abrupt with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): There are tendencies now toward excitement, undue reaction to disappointment, altering plans needlessly. Be alert to your own moods and curb the harmful ones.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): A good day? Get out your bag of tricks and launch your pet projects — especially those having to do with creative interests and family affairs.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Much activity indicated, and excellent stellar influences favor any number of good endeavors — including new undertakings you may be planning to launch.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with an abundance of good will, love and understanding of your fellowman. You may be overpossessive with those you love, however, and inclined to oversensitivity at fancied slights on their part. Try to overcome this and, instead, stress your bright sense of humor when situations annoy. You are an outstanding organizer and could excel as a business executive or financier; if so inclined, could also make a success in the fields of art, music or literature; in science or the law. Birthdate of: John D. Rockefeller, Amer. Industrialist; Nelson A. Rockefeller, U.S. statesman; Fitz Green Halleck, poet.

Pope Paul VI was elected June 21, 1963. He is the 262nd Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): There's a tendency now to let things slide. But without careful thinking and planning, complexities could arise to plague you later. Face up to future requirements.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A better day than you may anticipate. Especially favored: personal relationships, creative pursuits, travel plans.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Your imagination highly stimulated and, while you may not capitalize on new ideas immediately, they should be happily productive in the future.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Once you have made up your mind, back up decisions with vigorous action. You may run into some opposition, but you can win with reason and logic.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): There is evidence that competition is on the move. Don't be left at the post. Good judgment and prompt action needed.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A good day for dealing with superiors, with persons in authority generally. Any or all should be receptive to your ideas.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You may feel somewhat stymied in your plans, but skies are clearing for faster advancement toward desired goals. Have patience!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Quiet steps may be the most important ones now, but they must be steady, knowing ones, directed only toward most worthwhile objectives. Stress your innate foresight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A day in which to tie up loose ends and make any required improvements. Don't complicate situations by acting hastily or being abrupt with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): There are tendencies now toward excitement, undue reaction to disappointment, altering plans needlessly. Be alert to your own moods and curb the harmful ones.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): A good day? Get out your bag of tricks and launch your pet projects — especially those having to do with creative interests and family affairs.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Much activity indicated, and excellent stellar influences favor any number of good endeavors — including new undertakings you may be planning to launch.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with an abundance of good will, love and understanding of your fellowman. You may be overpossessive with those you love, however, and inclined to oversensitivity at fancied slights on their part. Try to overcome this and, instead, stress your bright sense of humor when situations annoy. You are an outstanding organizer and could excel as a business executive or financier; if so inclined, could also make a success in the fields of art, music or literature; in science or the law. Birthdate of: John D. Rockefeller, Amer. Industrialist; Nelson A. Rockefeller, U.S. statesman; Fitz Green Halleck, poet.

Pope Paul VI was elected June 21, 1963. He is the 262nd Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church.

Carter Seeks Broad Mideast Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is calling for a Middle East peace settlement to include full diplomatic relations between Israel and the Arab states as the administration prepares for talks with Israeli Prime Minister Menahem Begin.

Neutron Bomb Tests Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has conducted underground tests in Nevada with the neutron bomb, a government spokesman said today.

"It's a matter of procedure that weapons are tested before production," said a spokesman for the Energy Research and Development Administration.

The neutron bomb, which is designed to kill people with massive doses of radiation while leaving most buildings intact, is designed as a warhead for the Lance missile, which now carries conventional nuclear warheads.

The Pentagon is seeking funds to put the neutron bomb into production.

The ERDA spokesman said the neutron bomb, known as the enhanced radiation warhead, "is under development now. Nuclear weapons are tested in the development stage before they go into production."

He declined to say when testing began, how often the weapon has been tested or the results. He said the tests have been conducted under treaties requiring that nuclear tests be conducted underground and that no radiation escape.

President Carter has not made a decision on whether to produce the neutron bomb. But he has asked Congress to approve production funds to provide him with flexibility in reaching a decision.

The President, meeting with 53 American Jewish leaders in a White House session on Wednesday, told them he believes there still is a chance for a lasting Middle East peace settlement, possibly by late this year.

Carter is due to meet with Begin in Washington later this month.

Meanwhile, the President was reported determined to decide personally whether to recommend production of a proposed new neutron bomb. Press Secretary Jody Powell said Carter expects to make a decision shortly after he has a chance to see the results of studies on the new weapon.

The studies are expected to reach the President about Aug. 15, Powell said.

Carter met with the American Jewish leaders in an apparent attempt to ease their apprehensions about U.S. foreign policy in the Middle East.

He opened the session by declaring that the cornerstone of his Middle East policy is to win permanent peace and the security of Israel.

Carter declared that his Middle East goals include a definition of peace between Israel and the Arab states that would involve a commitment to "open diplomatic relations" among the Middle East nations.

This definition, Carter said, would include an exchange of ambassadors, open communications and travel across national borders, trade, commerce, tourism and cultural exchanges.

But, the President conceded, "this is a very difficult concept for Arab leaders to accept."

Carter also said he has reservations about the concept of an independent Palestinian state located between Israel and Jordan, indicating that existence of such a state could undermine a peace settlement.

Carter did not mention possible territorial compromises that Israel would have to accept in return for any lasting peace agreement.

7-7-77 May Not Be Lucky Day For You

NEW YORK (AP) — Today, July 7, is 7-7-77. If you put store in numbers, and share the belief that seven is a lucky one, you might think this is your lucky day.

But maybe you'd better think twice. As reported in the New York Times of July 8, 1877, here are some of the things that happened on the last 7-7-77 — 100 years ago:

—More than 700 unlicensed dogs were drowned by the New York City dog pound, as owners of lost dogs scurried about trying to find their pets. "There was more excitement at the pound yesterday than at any time since its opening," the Times said.

—The German bark Auguste arrived in London "with her bulwarks and stanchions broken, her rigging carried away, and otherwise damaged, having been in collision."

—Otis Hodge's machine shop and foundry at North Adams, N.Y., was destroyed by fire, at a loss of $20,000. He had $8,000 insurance.

—A horse named Idalia stepped up to the starting post at Monmouth Park, N.J., a favorite because she had already bested her competition, Zoo Zoo. But Idalia became uncontrollable, tried to bolt and lost the race before it started. "A more sorrowful looking set of men than Idalia's backers were never seen on a race course," the Times commented.

—Two deputy sheriffs showed up at the Episcopal Church of the Holy Saviour at Madison Avenue and 25th Street to confiscate ornaments, the organ, furniture and the like on behalf of the Rev. Dr. Abraham Carter, the pastor, who said he had not been paid for some time. The church also couldn't open for services the next day, Sunday. On 7-7-77, the deputies had taken the keys.

—It was a lucky day for Philip Donohue of Elizabeth, who spent six hours buried in a collapsed well the night before but was rescued at just about midnight, as July 7 started.

—But it was the opposite kind of luck for a man named Daniel O'Leary, who chose 7-7-77 as the day on which his boat that he could walk 520 miles in six days would meet the moment of truth. He had been walking for five days already and covered 74½ miles on 7-7-77, but it wasn't enough. Just after midnight, he quit — 48½ miles short.

However, a word of encouragement comes from Robert Ball, director of the Astrological Metaphysical Research Center in Coral Gables, Fla.

A child born today "would be unusually sharp of mind, genius quality," he says.

Ball also says the stock market has risen every July 7th. If that claim is true, some investors will be in seventh heaven today.

Moped Regulations Slated By State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — You don't need a license to ride on a skateboard yet, but if Gov. James A. Rhodes approves, motorized bicycles, more commonly known as "mopeds," will be regulated in the state of Ohio.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Thomas E. Carney, D-32 Girard, applies to bikes with at least one wheel more than 14 inches in diameter and a motor, capable of speeds of no higher than 20 miles per hour.

It was approved 64-27 by the House Wednesday and sent on to Rhodes.

The legislation establishes a separate classification and standards for low-speed motorbikes and requires operators to be at least 14 years old and licensed with a newly created $2 moped license. A valid Ohio driver's license would also fill the bill.

Opposition was led by Rep. Richard D. Finan, R-19 Cincinnati, who said regulation was not needed.

"It's nothing more than a bicycle," Finan said. "We (the moped rider) can't even go as fast as a bicycle."

Strike Ends In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — City employees, whose surprise strike left Detroiters without bus service or garbage pickup, returned to work today after a tentative agreement on a three-year contract.

The settlement, reached shortly after 2 a.m., was unanimously endorsed by representatives of 19 locals of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, which represents some 8,000 city workers.

Dispatchers for the city transportation department said their 879-bus fleet was making 85 per cent of morning rush-hour runs and would be back to normal by afternoon. The city bus system carries about 200,000 riders a day. The city has no subway system.

Detroit General Hospital said its day shifts were fully staffed starting at 5 a.m. and its outpatient clinic was reopened.

Police said "all but a couple" of their civilian operators were reporting and uniformed officers who had taken over emergency phones would be relieved as their shifts ended.

Garbage pickups, however, were not fully normal.

"Based on the reports I have, we're at about 50 per cent so far," said Supt. Alvin Johnson of the environmental protection and maintenance department.

Your Answer To Energy Savings. A Complete Building Material Package Designed For An Energy Efficient Home

The Pinehurst

Here's What You Get

We supply all the materials—everything from the foundation plate up—for you to construct on your own lot the beautiful three-bedroom ranch style home shown above. Our price includes the cabinets, wallpaper, electrical and plumbing, carpet, heating system, nails—when we say everything, we mean everything!

Here's Proof It Works

This home is beautiful in more ways than one. It's one of the homes in our Low-E collection. That means it has been designed from the ground up to be one of the most energy-efficient homes you can buy. In fact, studies have shown that it can cut heating and cooling costs up to 65% when compared with homes built the conventional way! Just think what that means to you in terms of dollars and cents...every month! Actual metered results over a period of several years have proven the 65% savings. Some day, all homes will be built this way.

Here's What We Did

We obviously don't have room here to go into complete details. But we designed in a number of major features. For example, window area is cut to about 8% of floor space—about half the normal amount. Insulation is doubled—12" in the ceiling, 6" in the walls and floors. Everything is caulked and made air-tight. Plus other features. If you want the full story, we've printed an 8-page brochure that's yours for the asking. Just stop by our store for your free copy. And while there, look at our other designs. One is right for your family.

If You're Planning To Build A Home In The Future, We Encourage You To See Our Low-E Energy Efficient Homes.
